"I studied at the University College Maastricht (UCM) in the Netherlands for six months in 2022. It was easily the highlight of my Queen's career, if not one of the highlights of my life. I think one of the key benefits of an exchange is the independence you develop while living abroad. Building a life in a new country was incredibly empowering. It gave me a sense of confidence that I didn't expect."

► queensu.ca/residences

Our residences are an inclusive living and learning environment. Residence Life and Services staff and live-in upper year student Dons help you make peer-to-peer connections that can lead to lifelong friendships, navigate the transition to university, share knowledge about campus resources, and promote community building through floor and residence-wide events. We want every student to feel a sense of belonging, experience diverse opportunities to build resilience, and access the support you may need.

Residence by the numbers

- 4,900+ students living in residence
- 18 residences on campus
- 6 room configurations
- 4 washroom types
- 90+ countries represented

Applying for Residence

- The residence application opens in mid-March.
- To apply, you must have accepted your offer of admission.
- Residence is guaranteed for incoming first-year international students who submit their application and deposit by the deadline.
- Submit your residence application and pay the deposit by the June 3 deadline.

Queen's Community Housing

queensu.ca/residences/community-housing

There are many reasons that first-year students choose to live off-campus. Thousands of Queen's students live in the community surrounding campus in rented accommodations. Kingston is a classic university town with rental options for students near Queen's campus.

Our Off-Campus Living Advisor is available to guide you in evaluating off-campus housing, tenant rights and responsibilities, and resources for moving in/out.

Queen's Community Housing manages university-owned off-campus student housing and offers a listing service for local landlords.
