

Jeffery Hall: Room 110

Additional Photos:

Image Description: The door to room 110 in Jeffery Hall. The door is not accessible but has a doorknob on the right side of the door and opens outwards.

Image Description: The podium is equipped with a set of connection cables used to present media.

Image Description: This image shows the instructors view in the room. There are three rows of desks and chairs that are both portable. At the back of the room there is a cork board on the wall. The exit is on the right side of the room.

Image Description: The podium is visible at the front of the room. This is the student's point of view while sitting in the room. There are blackboards across the front of the room as well as a projector screen that can be pulled down while presenting.

For more information about accessibility on campus, please refer to the Accessibility Hub or the Facilities Building Directory.