These numbers are all based on the Enrolment Summary chart on pg.11.

International Enrolment

Increasing the number of international students at Queen's is an institutional priority. In 2015-16, there are 2,239 undergraduate and graduate international students (for-credit full and part-time, and including exchange) from 106 countries, up 14% over 2014-15 and 41% over 2012-13.

The international student population is 9.2%.

Undergraduate: 7.2% of the full-time undergraduate population are international students.

The top 3 countries of citizenship among international undergraduate students are:

Graduate: 24.8% of the full-time graduate population are international students, including exchange students.

The top 3 countries of citizenship among international graduate students are:

Attendance at graduate-level recruitment fairs in China and Brazil, and active recruitment of upper-year undergraduate international students already in Canada, has increased interest in Queen's. In addition, a new website to help ease the transition to Queen's and graduate studies, SGS Habitat: Coming from Away, provides resources, tips and supports for international graduate students.

The First-Year Class: Applications

Applications for 2015-16 increased by 1.6%, compared to 0% province-wide. Applicants selecting Queen's as 1st choice increased by 4.4%.

Applications from Ontario high school students were unchanged, compared to a -0.6% province-wide decrease among Ontario high school students applying to Ontario universities.

Applications from students not attending an Ontario high school increased by 7%, compared to a 1.6% increase province-wide.

Graduate: Applications

Total applications, both domestic and international, to graduate programs increased by 6.2% over 2014-15.

The First-Year Class International Recruitment

Queen's full-time recruiter based in Shanghai continues to raise the university's profile by attending educational fairs, and visiting schools to speak to students, guidance counsellors and teachers, and give presentations. Webinars were successfully introduced to reach prospective students who can't easily come to campus.

The ATLAS program, launched in 2014, was expanded in 2015 to include pre-arrival webinars, as well as on-campus sessions, to help ease the transition to Canada and Kingston.

Results: For 2015-16, applications from international students increased 25.7%; offers rose 40.7%; and acceptances increased 36.5%.

International students make up 6.2% of the incoming class.

Year 1-2 undergraduate retention rate among international students: 93% in 2015.

^{*}Total Actual - includes returning first-year students

Every fall, undergraduate admission staff visits with students at close to 1,000 high schools and post-secondary fairs across Canada, in 12 U.S. states, and in India, China, Hong Kong, the United Kingdom, Europe, United Arab Emirates and Turkey.

The Undergraduate Admission office, along with representatives from faculties and schools, and senior administrators, participated in events across western Canada, southern Ontario, and in Halifax and Boston for prospective students, with offers of admission. These events provide opportunities for students to learn more about the living and learning environment at Queen's. New this year, was a very well-attended event for students from Kingston and eastern Ontario.

Demand for Queen's programs continues to be high. Increased enrolment targets in Arts and Science were achieved, and overall yield was consistent with projections.
