QUEEN’S CONCURRENT EDUCATION PROGRAM
Teacher Education at Queen’s

WHAT CAN I STUDY AT QUEEN’S?
Teacher Education at Queen’s

The two most common routes to becoming a teacher at Queen’s:

1) Concurrent Education

2) Consecutive Education

How does Concurrent Education (Con-Ed) work?
Concurrent Education Program (Con-Ed)

Students work towards 2 degrees at the same time:

1. Bachelor of Education
2. Their chosen Arts & Science Bachelor’s degree
   - We offer 4 choices of ArtSci degree
Concurrent Education Program

○ YOUR FOUR CHOICES from our ARTS & SCIENCE DEGREES are:

- Bachelor of Arts (Honours)
- Bachelor of Science (Honours)
- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Fine Art
Concurrent Education Program

- Students receive their first Arts & Science degree after four years

- After this degree is complete, students proceed to Final Year Education
Concurrent Education Program

- In Final Year Education, they take Education courses only.

- Students receive a Bachelor of Education after this 12-month program is complete.
NEW BACHELOR OF Education Program

❖ All students starting first year in September 2020 will take the newer “extended B.Ed.”

❖ You may have heard this called the “two-year” B.Ed. program

❖ At Queen’s we have taken the four terms that usually fit into two full years and have changed the timing!
EXTENDED BACHELOR OF Education Program

Instead of:

- FALL/WINTER one year
- and FALL/WINTER another year

Our four terms are:

- SUMMER/FALL/WINTER/SUMMER

Con Ed students at Queen’s do not have to complete the first summer.
EXTENDED BACHELOR OF Education Program

- Our students will finish eight months earlier than other universities!!!

- Students starting this September will receive a Bachelor of Education in August 2025

What’s so great about Con-Ed anyway?
WHY CONCURRENT?

You will do eight weeks of placement during your undergrad years!

You will start studying Education theory right away (more fun than it sounds)

You have an assured spot in the B.Ed. program!

Con Ed offers a close-knit student group with lots of leadership opportunities (CESA and QCE, for example)

How does Consecutive Education work?
Consecutive Education Program

- This is now a FOUR-TERM (16-month) Bachelor of Education program (four consecutive terms at Queen’s only)
- follows ANY four-year degree from any school
- Students apply in the fourth year of their first degree
- Students receive a Bachelor of Education upon completion
- Consecutive and Concurrent students share three terms of this academic year (Fall/Winter/Summer 2)
WHY CONSECUTIVE?

- If you don’t get accepted to Con-Ed you can still become a teacher this way!
- If you want to study something that we don’t offer in Con-Ed (e.g. Kinesiology or Commerce), you must choose Consecutive
- If you want to work for a while to gain life experience before becoming a teacher, Consecutive is for you!
Teacher Education at Queen’s

Why should I choose Queen’s?
Why Education at Queen’s?

FOR BOTH CONCURRENT and CONSECUTIVE WE OFFER:

- Education Career Services
- Practicum Office
- You finish sooner!

- Four consecutive terms beginning in the summer-ours is the only program like this!
Why Education at Queen’s?

FOR BOTH CONCURRENT and CONSECUTIVE

- Tailor your learning...we offer Program Tracks and concentrations in B.Ed.
- International Opportunities (TORF)
- Alternative Practicum-amazing opportunity to find educational opportunities outside a typical classroom, even overseas!
Program Tracks

Queen’s offers 3 program tracks in either PJ or IS during the B.Ed. year (affects your electives and Alternative Practicum only)

1. Aboriginal Teacher Education
2. Artist in Community Education
3. Outdoor and Experiential Education
Teacher Education at Queen’s

Aboriginal Teacher Education Program Track

Promotes the development of Aboriginal curriculum and pedagogy
Teacher Education @ Queen’s

Artist in Community Education Program Track

For practicing artists in art, music, drama and writing who wish to pursue a range of career possibilities in education.
Teacher Education at Queen’s

Outdoor & Experiential Education Program Track

Integrates conventional teacher education with community-based outdoor, nature-oriented education.
Concentrations

If you are not in a Program Track, you will choose a concentration during the B.Ed. year (affects your Alternative Practicum)

EXAMPLES:

1. School Leadership
2. At-Risk Youth and Children
3. Exceptionalities (Special Ed)
4. Assessment and Evaluation
5. Drama or Arts in Society
6. Early Primary Education
7. International Education
8. Educational Technology
TORF is our Teachers’ Overseas Recruiting Fair

People come from schools all over the world to interview our teacher candidates!
The Alternative Practicum is an opportunity to explore an area of educational interest within a context that is different from what you experience during the three regular practicum components. It will take place in a non-typical setting; a resource classroom, a theatre or outdoor education centre, etc. It can also take place outside Canada!

The Alternative Practicum must relate to your Program Track, or your concentration.
