Why Study Arts and Science at Queen’s?

Arts and Science is an integrated faculty, with a strong sense of shared purpose. As a student, you benefit from the opportunity to choose from a variety of study options and to develop transdisciplinary skills that are highly valued by employers. Some students apply directly into our Fine Art, Kinesiology and Health Studies, Life Science and Biochemistry, Music and Music Theatre programs, most go into Arts or Science and declare their major before entering second year. While you settle into university life, you have the chance to explore and work with our faculty and advisors to uncover your real interests and opportunities for success. Sometimes that discovery happens quickly, and other times it takes some time before the “ah-ha!” happens! Either way, your first year will be a great experience!

Connecting Communities

queensu.ca/yellow-house

Yellow House is a safe, comfortable and accountable space for students who identify as Queer, Trans, Black, Indigenous, and People of Colour (QTBIPOC), and the many intersections within these identities.

We seek to engage students in initiatives that actively dismantle oppressive, racist and colonial ideologies, and practices. We serve students through four major goals: we are a safe space for queer and racialized students to create community, we connect QTBIPOC students with university resources that are tailored to their needs, we uplift the voices of queer and racialized students, and we are committed to growth.

Admission Pathway for Indigenous Students

Queen's offers Indigenous candidates an additional and alternative pathway for admission to the first year of a full-time, first-entry undergraduate degree program, known as the Indigenous Admission Policy.

Indigenous candidates apply through the Ontario Universities’ Application Centre (OUAC) and self-identify as having Indigenous ancestry. Candidates must meet the general admission requirements for each program and deadlines for undergraduate admission. This may also include other supplementary information that will be requested on the To-Do List in your SOLUS Student Centre.

Candidates seeking admission consideration under this policy should submit a separate letter to the Indigenous Community Liaison stating that they wish to be considered under this policy along with proof of Indigenous ancestry (First Nation, Status/Non-Status, Métis or Inuit). Admission to Queen's University will depend on the assessment of the student’s program prerequisites (or equivalencies) as well as the student’s overall average and submission of any required supplementary information. The number of students admitted each year under this policy will be determined in the annual enrolment plan upon consultation with the faculties and schools. For more information, please email the Indigenous Outreach Liaison.

First-Generation Student Admission Pathway

Queen's encourages participation in post-secondary education by First-Generation students. We offer First-Generation candidates, including Pathways to Education students, Leadership by Design participants, Extended Society Care students, Big Brothers and Big Sisters Pumped for Post-Secondary program, and members of the Boys and Girls Club Raising the Grade program, an additional and alternative admission pathway to the first year of a full-time, first-entry undergraduate degree program.

Offers of admission will be made to First-Generation candidates whose total application shows strong evidence of academic preparedness and potential. Students will be introduced to the contacts and services available at the Student Experience Office and the Student Awards Office during the application process, and upon admission. Queen's University encourages students to access these services throughout their time at Queen's. Students who are admitted through this pathway will be encouraged to make use of the academic advising and academic support services available to all students at Queen's University.

Visit the website above for detailed admission requirements and competitive averages for each degree program, for your location or educational system.

Competitive averages are based on the minimum average (based on prerequisite courses) required for admission consideration for September 2021, and can vary from year-to-year. Achieving the minimum average does not guarantee admission. Any additional information we require (including due dates) will be posted on your To-Do List in SOLUS. Preference is given to applicants with the strongest overall qualifications.
Supplementary Admission Information

queensu.ca/admission/about-applying/documents

Your high school transcript is just one piece of information we use when making an admission decision. Each applicant to Queen’s has a unique To-Do List, detailing exactly what we need to complete your application. You can see your To-Do List (and the due dates) on your SOLUS Student Centre. We will send your SOLUS access information after you apply. Learn more about submitting your documents on the website listed above.

We review and update our Supplementary requirements on a regular basis to ensure applicants have a meaningful platform to share additional information not available through their grades. Please visit our website for the most up-to-date information on Supplementary requirements and how, when and for which programs they are required.

Equity Admission Self-Identification

Queen’s has pledged to identify and eliminate barriers within university policies, procedures, and practices related to the recruitment and admission of Black, Indigenous and other racialized students, and enhance efforts and initiatives to diversify the student population.

To assist in this effort, applicants from a broad range of historically and currently underrepresented groups are encouraged to self-identify to the Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment Office. Queen’s may consider this information in conjunction with the academic record when making offers of admission. Learn more: queensu.ca/admission/equity-admission-self-identification

Get to Know Our Campus

Why not start your own Queen’s story by taking a campus tour? We know you’ll like what you see.

▶ queensu.ca/admission/campus-tours
The best part of Queen’s is our people and the learning, but we also think our campus is pretty special. The campus is mostly ivy-covered limestone, making it an idyllic university campus. Every building – from very old to very new – has a story to tell.

The pictures in our Viewbook were taken before COVID-19 became a factor in all of our lives and show our beautiful campus and our close-knit community.
