Faculty of Arts & Science:
COVID-Related Absence Reference Guide

This guide is based upon information provided by the Government of Ontario and the local Kingston Frontenac Lennox and Addington (KFL&A) Health Unit. If you are located in another jurisdiction and are subject to different health requirements, please contact our office for further support. For more information, please review Queen’s COVID-19 Information page.

General Information

- Ontario’s mandatory five-day isolation period is no longer required. Please review the links above for more information on when you should stay home and for which length of time.
- Queen’s University strongly recommends that every person intending to live, study, or engage in in-person activities, maintain up-to-date vaccinations & boosters to reduce the risk of an interruption to their studies or access to university facilities and resources.
- EXAM PERIOD: The Faculty Office DOES NOT recommend writing exams/tests/quizzes or handing in assignments when experiencing an extenuating circumstance impacting your academic ability.

Applying for Consideration

- If you have symptoms of any respiratory illness/if you have a fever/if you have gastrointestinal symptoms, you have the following options to submit a request:
  - Every student can submit one request without documentation per semester, up to a maximum of 3-days. Please follow the directions outlined in our Short-Term (without documentation) video tutorial. Not available during an exam period
  - Short-term requests can be submitted with supporting documentation, up to a maximum of 3-days. Attestation Forms can support this request (see below). Please review the Short-Term Requests (with documentation) video tutorial for more info.
  - Should a student have need of Consideration for a period of longer than 3-days, a long-term request with medical documentation can be submitted. Please review the Long-Term Requests video tutorial for more info.

Supporting Documentation

- We do not accept someone else’s health information to support requests.
- If you need documentation to support a request, you may use one of the following options:
  - Attestation Form – See “Supporting Documentation” section for instructions on obtaining a form. NOTE: Can only support short-term requests for consideration up to 3-days.
  - Medical documentation (ie: a doctor’s note)
- If our team requires new documentation to support your request, you will be contacted via email. Please follow the “Adding Documentation to an Active, Open Request” video tutorial.

Further Information

- All requests and supporting documentation are reviewed by the Faculty Office.
  - Short-term requests are automatically approved, and our team will contact you within 2 business days if further follow-up is required.
  - Long-term requests can take up to 6 business days to be verified. Once completed, the Faculty Office will notify you of your next steps and confirm the timeline of your request with your instructor(s).
- If you have additional questions AFTER reading this guide in full, please speak with a member of our team using one of the following methods:
  - Zoom Office Hours, which run Tuesdays from 2:00 – 3:30pm and Thursdays from 10:30am – 12:00pm
  - You can also contact our office at asc.consideration@queensu.ca. Correspondence may take up to 3 days to receive a reply.
