

Dean's Report

April 2020

additional information presented by the Dean at Faculty Board*

Coronavirus COVID-19 Information

We are regularly updating the FAQs on our QUartsci.com/covid-19 webpage and are continuing to host our Lunchtime Live Info Sessions with the Dean and Associate Deans today on Tuesdays and Thursdays via Zoom (zoom.us/j/881556360).

Strategic Plan Updates and Kudos

Kudos go to everyone in our Faculty for working collaboratively to face and overcome the challenges caused by COVID-19. Everything we are doing in this time of transition is in continued support of our strategic plan priorities: #ResearchProminence, #StudentExperience #SupportFASpeople and #TransformFASspaces.

In addition, kudos to our faculty members have had their research and scholarly activities featured in the Gazette this month:

- Robert Ross (Kinesiology and Health Studies) encourages us to stay active during trying times in Making all the right moves.
- Judith Davidson (Psychology) outlines the best way to get the rest we need as we deal with the COVID-19 pandemic in Getting your rest during trying times
- Tom Hollenstein (Psychology) speaks about ways of coping with stress as the world deals with the coronavirus in Accepting anxiety as COVID-19 looms
- Sam McKegney (English Language and Literature) and Courtney Szto (Kinesiology and Health Studies) have authored a Policy Paper for Anti-Racism in Canadian Hockey, together with Michael Auksi, a PhD student at McGill University, and Bob Dawson, Senior Sportswriter, Boxscore World Sportswire. See Making hockey more inclusive and accountable