Immerse yourself in history and archaeological discovery in this four-week intensive summer program at the Bader International Study Centre in Southern England. Earn Queen’s credits on a real dig on the historic grounds of Herstmonceux Castle, develop your skills, and boost your resume for grad school or employment.

- Take part in an excavation at the site of the Castle’s Gamekeeper’s Lodge, circa 1440
- Learn how you learn best with small classes and one-to-one attention from your instructors
- Analyse finds from the dig to put your archaeological training into action
COURSES

- CLST 408/6.0 Archaeology Fieldwork Practicum

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE & EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Programs at the Bader International Study Centre are all about learning through experience, and where better to experience Archaeology than a 15th century castle? During the accelerated four-week program, you will have the opportunity to apply your studies to the excavation of an unexcavated medieval building on the grounds of Herstmonceux Castle.

But your learning isn’t limited to the Castle grounds. Go beyond the classroom with an experiential learning trip into Sussex to learn about the archaeology of Roman Britain.
