Overview

If you're looking to go beyond your degree, eager to explore the world, and ready for an academic experience like no other, the i2TRM program is a unique opportunity to learn how to take an innovative idea and turn it into a business, guided by expert instructors and successful entrepreneurs.

Starting in Kingston, ON, before moving to the Bader International Study Centre at Herstmonceux Castle in the UK, the program consists of 5 courses delivered over 14 weeks through online and classroom learning. We know the real world is not split into academic silos and so unlike many other entrepreneurship and innovation programs, i2TRM is open to students from all faculties.

Take the first steps towards building your own business and receive academic credit, all while living and learning in the UK.
