

Department of Classics Travel Grant Application

Established in January 2010 by friends of the Department of Classics, the grant is available to contribute to the support of field research that must be carried out at a considerable distance from Queen's University. Granted to graduate students or senior undergraduate students registered in the Department of Classics, on the basis of academic merit and the feasibility of the proposed field study research described within the application below. Selection will be made by the Department of Classics Awards Committee. The full amount of the award (or the balance after outstanding fees are paid) will be forwarded to the recipient in a cheque or deposited to the student's online-listed bank account.
