Course descriptions are available at http://www.queensu.ca/classics/undergraduate/courses-currently-offered

Graduate TA-ships will only be offered to candidates in Group B, C or D after the qualified candidates in Group A have been exhausted. In addition we will do our best to match your preference to course offerings.

Group A: for qualified graduate students registered as:
(i) students in a department or program in which the TA-ship will be offered; or
(ii) students in an interdisciplinary program with TA budget resources, and for whom the TA-ship has been granted as part of the funding commitment offered by the Employer.

Group B: for qualified graduate students registered as:
(i) students in a department or program in which the TA-ship will be offered; or
(ii) students in an interdisciplinary program with TA budget resources, and for whom
(iii) the TA-ship will not form part of the funding commitment offered by the Employer; or
(iv) there is currently no funding commitment provided by the Employer.

Group C: for qualified graduate students that have previously held a TA-ship or TF-ship for the Employer.
Group D: for qualified graduate students that have not yet met the criteria as set out in A, B, or C.

The primary purpose of teaching assistantships is to support undergraduate teaching. Consequently, academic excellence in the course for which teaching assistantships exist is mandatory.

Full graduate TA-ships in Classics normally involve 120 hours per term for both the fall and winter terms.
Duties may include:
- Attending class
- General duties to assist the professor
- Preparation of tests/exams
- Marking
- Meeting with and/or responding to (email) student queries
- Facilitating discussion groups (CLST 205 only)
- Leading language tutorials

Please forward your applications* and ranked course preferences and other relevant material to Judy Vanhooser classics@queensu.ca by 4 pm on Friday, August 2nd 2019.

*What to include in your application:
CV, unofficial transcripts and a one-paragraph statement of why you want to TA for a particular course, including a statement of relevant experience. Please rank your course preferences by term. In general, it is recommended that you apply for all courses for which you are qualified.

For more information, please contact Dr. Daryn Lehoux, Graduate Coordinator, Department of Classics, 613-533-6000 ext. 74821, lehoux@queensu.ca.
