

Botterell Hall: Room B129

Additional Photos:

Image Description: Entryway door to Biosciences complex, room 2109. The door has a handle on the right side.

Image Description: View of the classroom from the instructor's podium. Desks are round and seat 7 students each, chairs can be arranged according to the instructor's preference. The entryway door is located behind the instructor's podium.

Image Description: Top-down view of the instructor's podium. The podium is equipped with a set of microphones and connection cords to project media and a document camera.

Image Description: View of the classroom from a student seat in the center of the room. Instructor's podium is located at the front of the room on the right-hand side (from student's point of view). A whiteboard is located on the right wall, close to the instructor's podium and along other walls. A digital projector on the ceiling projects onto the whiteboards around the room. This classroom is accessible for students.

For more information about accessibility on campus, please refer to the Accessibility Hub or the Facilities Building Directory.