

THE GENDER-FRIENDLY POST-SECONDARY CLASSROOM

DR. LEE AIRTON

Join Dr. Lee Airton, Education Leader-in-Residence and Associate Professor in the Faculty of Education for a two-part interactive workshop series on welcoming gender diversity in your classroom and curriculum. The series covers key concepts, interrupting common invisible assumptions about gender and sexuality, managing students' preferred names and pronouns, integrating gender diversity into your course content, and more

Part One: 20-minute online advance module on key concepts (pre-requisite for Part 2).

Part Two: 120-minute live and interactive workshop.

WHO CAN SIGN UP?

- Groups of 10-20 faculty members or course instructors in the same unit
- Units within the same Faculty can combine in a single workshop

The series is offered at no cost to units as part of the Education Leader-in-Residence program.

Participants who complete the series may access Lee's one-on-one coaching hours to receive individualized support.

To sign up a group or inquire, contact lee.airton@queensu.ca

Learn more about Lee's work at www.leeairton.com