The Principal’s International Education Innovation Award

Sponsored and coordinated by the Associate Vice-Principal (International)

The Principal’s International Education Innovation Award is one of 6 awards intended to celebrate teaching excellence and to increase trans-disciplinary exposure to exemplars in teaching and the diverse ways in which the student learning experience is enhanced by educators and educational supports at Queen’s. This happens at the course level, through focusing on teaching of strategic university goals as well as through individual and group efforts outside of specific courses, at the academic unit level. Please see the website for a complete listing of the Principal’s Teaching and Learning Awards.

The Principal’s International Education Innovation Award recognizes innovation in internationalization of both teaching and learning in programs or courses. Successful innovation is exemplified through evidence-based approaches that are learning and student-focused.

This award honours the outstanding efforts of an individual or a team of students, staff and/or faculty (in any combination) who contribute to creating or reforming a course or program that fosters internationalization at Queen’s by purposefully integrating international dimensions into a program of teaching and learning.

International Education Innovation can take place on campus or as part of a field program.

This award may not be conferred if qualifying nominations are not received.

Criteria
A strong nomination will demonstrate:

- evidence-based and innovative approaches to internationalizing teaching and learning programs or courses;
- clear, measurable, innovative and internationalized learning outcomes;
- evidence of the impact of the internationalized program and its learning outcomes on student learning and achievement.

Recognition
Award recipients will:

- be presented with the award at the annual Teaching Awards Reception;
- receive a $2,000 award to be used at their discretion and;
- be featured in international Queen’s communications stories.
Nomination Requirements
Nominations may be submitted by an individual or any combination of students, faculty members, and staff, department heads or deans. Self-nominations will also be considered.

A nomination should include:
- a completed nomination form (57kB), no more than 5 pages, that outlines how the project and team meet the award criteria;
- two letters of support for the nomination (ideally from two different stakeholders addressing the award criteria);
- and a copy of the syllabus of the course or summary of the program.

(*In order to maintain consistency across nominations, the Adjudication Committee will stop reading beyond the limits specified.)

The call for nominations will be posted in the Centre for Teaching and Learning (CTL bulletin and in the print and on-line Gazette. It will also be promoted at the Queen’s University International Programs Committee (QUIPC) and via direct emails sent to Faculty International Officers (FIOs).
