TEACHING FELLOW POSITION AVAILABLE – Fall 2016
ENSC 203/3.0 – Environment and Sustainability
School of Environmental Studies
Queen’s University, Kingston, ON CAN K7L 3N6

The School of Environmental Studies at Queen's University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in co-teaching a course in Environment and Sustainability (ENSC 203/3.0). This is an on-campus course with an expected enrolment of approximately 150 students. Instructors will be required to prepare and utilize course materials using onQ, the new Queen's learning management system which has replaced Moodle. This is a fall term appointment for the period September 1, 2016 to December 31, 2016. If you have any questions about the co-teaching arrangement, please contact Dr. Alice Hovorka, Director, School of Environmental Studies for more information.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ persons. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during this process, please contact: School of Environmental Studies, Dr. Alice Hovorka, Director, alice.hovorka@queensu.ca, 613-533-6000 ext. 78060.

Graduate Teaching Assistant and Teaching Fellows at Queen's University are governed by the Collective Agreement for Teaching Assistants and Teaching Fellows between PSAC Local 901 and Queen’s University, which is posted at http://psac901.org/ Remuneration will be in accordance with the Collective Agreement.

Applicants must be an enrolled PhD student at Queen’s University. Applications should include a statement of relevant qualifications in relation to environment and sustainability, a curriculum vitae, and a short note or email from at least one referee, normally their supervisor, as well as any other relevant materials that the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a teaching dossier or student evaluations, etc. Teaching Fellows will be provided mentoring and assistance throughout their appointment by the Director of the School and/or the Centre for Teaching and Learning.

Please arrange to have applications and supporting documentation sent directly to:

Alice Hovorka, Director
School of Environmental Studies
Queen’s University
Kingston, Ontario Canada K7L 3N6

Applications will be received until May 31, 2016. Review of applications will commence shortly thereafter, and the final appointment is subject to budgetary approval. Additional information about the School of Environmental Studies can be found at: http://queensu.ca/ensc/index.html
Course Description:
ENS C 203/3.0 Environment and Sustainability
An interdisciplinary approach to complex environmental issues, and diverse perspectives on environmental management and sustainability. The course considers the social and scientific aspects of environmental problems and the production of environmental knowledge alongside global linkages, human health implications and barriers to sustainability.
LEARNING HOURS 126 (24L;12T;60;84P)
PREREQUISITE Level 2 or above.

Posted: May 17, 2016