

Chair in Applied Health Economics and Policy
Queen's Health Sciences
Kingston, Ontario, Canada

Queen's Health Sciences (QHS) invites applications for the Chair in Applied Health Economics and Policy, funded by CTAQ (Clinical Teachers' Association of Queen's) at Queen's University.

We are searching for an academic physician who has special expertise, experience, and academic qualifications (or equivalent) in the area of applied health economics and/or health policy. The successful candidate will lead or have recently led a research program in this area and will also have experience in the training of undergraduate, graduate, and postgraduate students. While not required, experience and an interest in compensation for health professionals, including a focus on value based healthcare and collaborative care models would be an asset.

Qualified candidates must hold an MD (or equivalent) and be eligible for licensure in Ontario. The Chair holder will have or be eligible for appointment with appropriate academic rank, to a clinical department within Queen's Health Sciences that is relevant to their specialty. It is anticipated that the Chair holder will devote 50% of their time to research and scholarly work in the area of applied health economics and policy.

One of Canada's leading universities, Queen's has a long-standing reputation for academic excellence, research, and a diverse and vibrant learning environment. The University is situated on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Anishinaabe, in historic Kingston on the shores of Lake Ontario. Kingston's residents enjoy an outstanding quality of life with a wide range of cultural, recreational, and creative opportunities.

Applications must be accompanied by a letter summarizing relevant experience, a curriculum vitae, and the names and full contact information of three referees. Internal applications must also include a letter from the applicant's Department Head/Director, in which the Head/Director expresses their support for the application. Applications are to be directed to: Dr. Jane Philpott, Dean, Queen's Health Sciences and CEO, SEAMO, c/o Kristy Lodewyks, Senior Staffing Officer, Queen's Health Sciences (kristy.lodewyks@queensu.ca). Review of applications will commence July 5, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. Prospective candidates are encouraged to contact Kristy Lodewyks to request a copy of the Academic Terms of Reference. Support to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that considers an applicant's accessibility needs, will be provided in the recruitment processes. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact Kristy Lodewyks, as indicated above.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is strongly committed to employment equity, diversity, and inclusion in the workplace and encourages applications from individuals who self-identify as members of equity-deserving groups, including women, Indigenous Peoples, persons living with disabilities, racialized communities, and members of LGBTQIA2S+ communities. Queen's is committed to fostering an institutional culture which recognizes and respects the equal dignity and worth of all who seek to participate in the life, work, and mission of the University. Visit Inclusive Queen's for information on equity, diversity and inclusion resources and initiatives.