

Conflict Resolution Services

For QUFA Bargaining Unit

Members At Queen's

Working at Queen's can be a positive and fulfilling experience. Managing multiple interpersonal and professional relationships on a daily basis can also be challenging and stressful. QUFA bargaining unit Members (Faculty, Librarians and Archivists) who are experiencing a disagreement, issue or conflict with another Member or others in the Queen's community, may access Conflict Resolution Services, confidentially and free-of-charge.

The services are designed to help Members deal with difficult situations and manage conflict.
