

AVAILABLE POSITIONS:

Job Title: Post-Doctoral Fellow in Emerging Media Practices

Department: Film and Media, Queen's University

Description of Area or Topic of Research:

The Department of Film and Media at Queen's University is accepting applications for a 2-year postdoctoral fellowship beginning July 1, 2026. This funded fellowship supports the development of an original research project working in the areas of media, communication studies, and/or practice with a focus on technological innovation, the development of new production models for artists and critical discourses in emerging media.

Applicants must have completed a PhD in a discipline relevant to the position's terms prior to beginning the fellowship. Previous teaching experience and evidence of scholarly research and publication related to the terms of the position will also be considered an asset. A postdoctoral supervisor will be named based on the successful candidate's field of specialization.

The successful applicant will be expected to maintain an active scholarly profile and to teach two semester-long courses per year in their subject field.

The candidate will:

- Develop a rigorous research profile around new and emerging media technologies, including but not limited to AR, VR, media façades, and AI
- Develop curricula to assist film, media and visual arts students in developing their own artistic and research projects and assist young academics working in the field of media and communications as they assess their relationship with artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies.

Supervision and Academic Unit:	A postdoctoral supervisor will be named based on the successful candidate's field of specialization.
Remuneration:	The total salary for 2026-2027 will be approximately $75,000 CAD per year, comprising a fellowship salary and a teaching stipend for 2 one-term courses per year. Additional funds have been allocated for academic travel and research.
Start Date and Duration of Appointment:	July 1, 2026. 2 years
Required Qualifications:	PhD in Film or Media or related fields.
Required Documentation:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) a 2-3 page cover letter that outlines current or proposed research project(s) to be pursued during the fellowship and ideas for courses the candidate would propose teaching. 2) a complete and current curriculum vitae. 3) upon request, letters of reference from two referees sent directly to Gary Kibbins, Department Head, gk6@queensu.ca. 4) a writing sample such as a dissertation chapter or article. 5) any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a teaching dossier or artist portfolio.
Application Deadline:	Applications will be received until 30 March, 2026 .
Application Procedure:	Please arrange to have applications sent electronically to Gary Kibbins, Department Head, gk6@queensu.ca

This Post-Doctoral Fellow in Emerging Media Practices is a new position within the University.

Our recruitment process does not use Artificial Intelligence (AI) as defined under the Ontario Employment Standards Act to review applications.

The university invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is strongly committed to employment equity, diversity, and inclusion in the workplace and encourages applications from Black, racialized/visible minority and Indigenous/Aboriginal people, women, persons with disabilities, and 2SLGBTQ+ persons.

The university has policies in place to support its employees with disabilities, including an Accommodation in the Workplace Policy and a policy on the provision of job accommodations that take into account an employee's accessibility needs due to disability. The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the application/interview process, please contact Denise Arsenault, arsenaud@queensu.ca.

cc. PSAC Local 901, Unit 2 - info@psac901.org