CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Claudia Hirtenfelder who has received the inaugural prize for the AASA Popular Communication of Animal Studies Prize for her podcast The Animal Turn. The judges said that “The Animal Turn is not just a podcast, but an archive to distill and enact significant scholarship and promote scholarly events” and later noted that Claudia’s work is “aurally, intellectually and visually engaging, opening up the field in accessible ways. The Animal Turn is centralising animals to stimulate debate and discussion for graduate student audiences and far beyond.” You can read more about the award here: <https://animalstudies.org.au/archives/8705>.

A MESSAGE FROM RYAN DANBY

I've decided to clear some shelves in my office. I have the last 10+ years of “The Professional Geographer” and “Annals of the AAG” in hard copy. I'm hoping that someone might want them, otherwise I'll be recycling them. Please drop me a note if you would like them (ryan.danby@queensu.ca) or phone (x78540).
