

NEWSLETTER

From the Department of Geography & Planning

Monday, January 17, 2022

Volume 5, No. 17

CALENDAR

Thursday, January 20; 1:00 p.m.; Zoom: SNID's first talk of the Winter term. Nora Leto (Writer, Activist, Editor of the Canadian Association of Labour Media) will speak on "Spin-doctors: How Media and Politicians misdiagnosed the COVID-19 Pandemic." Zoom link: <https://queensu.zoom.us/j/97416622727?pwd=cStoTFcvNXpaLysxeGdCWtIyRUswZz09>. Meeting ID: 974 1662 2727 Passcode: 3.qMuy

Thursday, January 20; 2:30 p.m.; Online: Sustainable Living Series. Dr. John Smol will speak on the "Effects of Climate Change on Lakes." This session is open to all students, staff and faculty. Please register through the HR Learning Catalogue or visit: https://reg.learningstream.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0011-0020-3c705c8126fa4cda9c72c7ac9a651a8a.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Miranda Virginillo who has been awarded the Sue Hendler Fellowship. Established with an estate gift from Sue Hendler and gifts from family and friends, this academic fellowship is awarded to graduate students in Urban and Regional Planning who have distinguished themselves academically and are conducting research on planning ethics or women and gender in planning. Based on your master's research on the Community Planning Association of Canada, your supervisor, David Gordon, nominated you for this Fellowship valued at $6,624.

UPCOMING THESIS EXAMINATION

February 11; 10:00 a.m.; Teams: Peter Milley's PhD Oral Thesis Examination. Thesis title: "Opportunities for Improved Forest-based Biorefining. Supervisor: Dr. Warren Mabee.

ATTENTION INSTRUCTORS: CALL FOR INQUIRY@QUEEN'S SUBMISSIONS

The 16th annual Inquiry@Queen's Undergraduate Research Conference will be held virtually 9-11 March 2022. This conference celebrates the research of a new generation of scholars and offers a platform for their voices, ideas, and creativity. The call for submissions is open on the new I@Q website and the deadline to submit an abstract is Friday, February 18, 2022. The conference theme, Reaching Beyond, invites contemplation of our everyday lives, our ways of thinking, and how we engage in questioning and exploring the world around us.

This year's program will combine short online presentations and posters in a live Zoom question and answer forum. We hope to see both individual and group projects that capture art, performance, creative writing, applied research, field work, community engagement, archival research ... and more. Details on presentation format and how to submit your proposal are on the I@Q website. All abstracts and presentations will be formally published in the I@Q Conference Proceedings.

Please alert your students to the possibility of showcasing their work!

With many thanks from the Inquiry@Queen's Planning Group iatq@queensu.ca

FACULTY FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Craig H. Nielsen Foundation - Creating Opportunity & Independence Project Grants

Mandatory expression of intent \(EOI\) for CREATE Competition

Office of the Privacy Commissioner Contributions Program

World Anti Doping Agency: Scientific Research Grants

American Institute for Cancer Research - 2022 Research Grant Program

Craig H. Nielsen Foundation - Psychosocial Research Grant

GlycoNet - Strategic Initiatives 2022

GlycoNet Translational Funding 2022

World Anti Doping Agency: Scientific Research Grants

RESEARCH AND OTHER:

Undergraduate Student Summer Research Fellowships \(USSRF\)

EDITED AND PRODUCED BY JOAN KNOX