

FALL 2022 CONVOCATION

From October 11 to 14, 2022, Queen's students from all programs of study had the opportunity to celebrate Convocation with their family, friends, teachers, and fellow students. Ampai Thammachack, who earned a Master of Arts degree from the Department of Geography and Planning, spoke with CTV News Ottawa about the experience. To read the full CTV News Ottawa article and hear Ampai's thoughts, please see Queen's students celebrate in-person fall convocation ceremonies. And congratulations, graduates!

Geography and Planning PhD recipients (from left to right) Sirikul (Bella) Hutasavi-Tungsapdongto, Sean Kamin-Patterson and Yuan Li. Bella came all the way back from Thailand and Yuan postponed her return to China to attend!

In the News

Warren Mabee (Arts and Science, Department of Geography and Planning, School of Policy Studies)

CBC Radio:
CBC Radio One Fredericton

Dr. Mabee talks about Canada's climate goals and Chrystia Freeland's bold vision for a global economic future.

Monday, October
31 is Halloween.
BOO!

Open House at the Geography and Planning Sonic Arts of Place (SAP) Lab

Kevin Kemmish with pine shard, Station Manager, Algonquin Wildlife Research Station

Wednesday, October 26th: 1-2:30 pm.
Thursday, October 27th: 3-5 pm.
SAPLab, Macintosh-Corry E303
Free admission!

You are invited to come listen to/through Blasted Pine Speakers, a sound installation made in collaboration with Laura Jean Cameron (GPPL), Matt Rogalsky (DAN School of Music and Drama) and the eastern white pine (zhingwaak, pinus strobus) who lived for several decades intact beside the Manager's cabin at the Algonquin Wildlife Research Station until struck by lightning in the fall of 2019.

Matt Rogalsky, DAN School of Music and Drama at the SAPLab

OPPI CAREER IN PLANNING PRESENTATION

FOTENN

Jennifer Wood and Youko Leclerc-Desjardins from Fotenn Planning + Design will be hosting a presentation on Wednesday, October 26, from 10:30-11:30 AM in the SURP Classroom to provide an overview of the planning profession. Jennifer and Youko have been at Fotenn for 10 years since they graduated from SURP, so they have lots of insights on the planning profession and can answer any questions that you might have on a career in planning. Coffee and snacks will be provided!

A Beauty That Hurts Launch – Thursday, October 27!

At Gallery Raymond, 334 Princess Street, on October 27 at 7pm, please join us to celebrate (in person) the publication of a new (fourth) edition of George Lovell's memoir of Guatemala, "A Beauty That Hurts," which is now also available as an audio book (<https://btlbooks.com/book/beauty-that-hurts254>) narrated by George himself.

Armed conflict raged in Guatemala off and on between 1960 and 1996, when a peace accord was signed between the national government and guerrilla forces fighting to overthrow a corrupt, brutal regime. A quarter-century on, if any measure of peace has come to the country, it is a peace resembling war.

First published in 1995, in its latest incarnation "A Beauty That Hurts" sees George return to Guatemala to grapple once again with the terror inflicted on its Maya peoples by a still militarized, authoritarian state.

"George Lovell didn't choose Guatemala: he was chosen by this land, in a magic way, to tell us about the shining voices that whisper in the heart of darkness." Eduardo Galeano, author of "Open Veins of Latin America" and "Memory of Fire."

"George Lovell is one of the few outsiders who has penetrated to the heart of the hideous tragedy that burns amidst Guatemala's beauty. He takes us there with style, originality, and calm understanding in this wise and moving book."

YOU'RE INVITED TO A BOOK LAUNCH

Gallery Raymond, 334 Princess, Thursday, Oct. 27, 7pm

Armed conflict raged in Guatemala off and on between 1960 and 1996, when a peace accord was signed between the national government and guerrilla forces fighting to overthrow a corrupt, brutal regime. A quarter-century on, if any measure of peace has come to the country, it is a peace resembling war.

First published in 1995, A Beauty That Hurts has been continuously updated through four editions in Canada and the US. Its new incarnation sees George return to Guatemala to grapple once again with the terror inflicted on its Maya peoples by a still militarized, authoritarian state.

Also available as an audiobook, and soon as an ebook.

W. George Lovell, FRSC, is Professor of Geography at Queen's University and Visiting Professor in Latin American history at Universidad Pablo de Olavide in Seville, Spain.

Dr. Alkim Karaagac
QROF Postdoctoral Fellow

Department of Geography and Planning, Queen's University

Geography and Planning Seminar Series Fall 2022

11/02

03:30 - 05:00

Mackintosh-Corry D216

'Fixing' Debt in Urban Space: The work of state-led housing provision for low-income groups in Istanbul

Sustainable Living Series returns for fall

The Sustainable Living Series returns with its first session of the fall on Oct. 27. The topic for this online session will be Sustainable Procurement, and it will be led by Nicole Fowler, Associate Director, Procurement Operations (Interim) and Strategic Sourcing, and Shelley Rizzo, Procurement Specialist. This session aligns with week four of Circular Economy Month, which is focused on community engagement.

The session takes place online on Thursday Oct. 27 from 2:30-3:30. Learn more and register on the HR Learning Catalogue.

H
O
M
E

A blue-tinted photograph of a modern building with large windows and trees in the foreground. Overlaid on the image is white and yellow text. At the top, 'SAVE THE DATE' is in large yellow letters. Below it, 'Geography and Planning Meet and Greet' is in white. Further down, a calendar icon is next to 'SATURDAY, OCT. 29, 2022 FROM 9:30 - 11:30 AM'. Below that, a location pin icon is next to 'MACKINTOSH-CORRY HALL, OUTSIDE E208'. At the bottom left, a white box contains text about connecting with alumni and current students. At the bottom right is the Queen's University logo.

SAVE THE DATE

Geography and Planning
Meet and Greet

 SATURDAY, OCT. 29, 2022 FROM 9:30 - 11:30 AM

 MACKINTOSH-CORRY HALL, OUTSIDE E208

Connect with alumni and current students from the Department of Geography and Planning. This all-ages event invites alumni and their families to enjoy a chance to hear what's new with the department, connect, and network while enjoying light refreshments.

C
O
M
I
N
G

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES & EVENTS

Mitacs: Globalink Research Award (GRA) Thematic Call - Mitacs GRA Thematic Call is exempt from the Mitacs temporary pause on submissions in Ontario. Deadline: November 25, 2022

R4R@Q Session - Indigenous Community Research Partnerships (December 7 | 10:00 - 11:30 am)

- Queen's hosts The Conversation on October 20 for two in-person workshops targeting our faculty, graduate students, and post-doctoral fellows interested in reaching the public and mobilizing their research.