DISTINGUISHED UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR PROGRAM

This new program recognizes researchers who have made significant and lasting contributions to Queen's and beyond. Queen's faculty, administrators, staff, students, and retirees may nominate candidates. The Distinguished University Professor designation is the highest research-related honour bestowed by the university. <https://www.queensu.ca/gazette/stories/nomination-deadline-distinguished-university-professor-program-feb-1>. Deadline: February 1, 2019.

JUST ANNOUNCED: AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN GRADUATE TEACHING

The Faculty of Arts and Science Award for Excellence in Graduate Teaching recognizes faculty members who, in the judgement of their graduate students, have made outstanding contributions to promoting graduate student excellence through teaching, supervision and mentorship at the graduate level. <https://www.queensu.ca/arts/sci/staff-and-faculty/award-for-excellence-in-graduate-teaching>. Deadline: March 15, 2019.

THE CONVERSATION CANADA – WORKSHOP INVITE

February 14, 2019: Queen's researchers are invited to attend one of two workshops with Scott White, Editor-in-Chief of The Conversation Canada.

The effective international news platform has helped over 22,000 researchers worldwide mobilize their research to millions of readers seeking evidence-based, informed news on issues of importance. Since becoming a founding member of The Conversation Canada in late 2017, 86 Queen's researchers have contributed 118 articles resulting in over 1.5 million reads.

The workshops will demonstrate how Queen's faculty and students can leverage this platform to promote their research and contribute to dialogue on issues of international importance. There will also be an opportunity to learn how to develop and test potential article pitches (bring some ideas!), and for previous authors to share their experiences writing for the platform.

Please register via Eventbrite. For more information on the workshop, please contact Kayla Dettinger, Research Promotion Coordinator.
