They’re here! The GSC Social Committee has collected their “Guess the Baby” pictures! You will find the photos at the end of this Newsletter. Give it a try and see how many you can guess correctly. Identities will be provided in next week’s Newsletter.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Dr. Audrey Kobayashi who has been awarded the CAUT Equity Award. The CAUT Equity Award was established in 2010 to recognize post-secondary academic staff and groups who have demonstrated an outstanding commitment to challenging exclusionary behaviours and practices such as racism and homophobia and by so doing have made post-secondary education in Canada more inclusive.

Tongues in Trees and Further Conversations, was voted as the Most Engaging Panel at the Scholarship Beyond Boundaries Conference! Congratulations to GPPL’s Hannah Hunter and the Sonic Arts of Place Laboratory (SAPLab) who participated in the panel. See sgps.ca/sbbc/

Congratulations to Daniela Aiella (Postdoctoral Fellow working with Audrey Kobayashi) who is one of two recipients chosen for the 2021 AAG Nystrom Award for her dissertation: “A colonial genealogy of eviction: racialized dispossession in Atlanta and Vancouver.”

IN THE NEWS

Kasmine Forbes (GPPL PhD Candidate - Arts and Science, Department of Geography and Planning). The Conversation: Caribbean food security during COVID-19 can only be ensured through debt relief. In her op-ed, PhD candidate Forbes looks at how the pandemic and global trade disruptions have affected the Caribbean food supply.
Queen’s Partnerships and Innovation will be running the “Market-Focused Research Workshop Series” on May 7th and May 14th. The workshop series is for graduate students (including those in professional programs such as Law or Medicine), post-doctoral fellows, and faculty members conducting research in fields in which knowledge mobilization or commercialization of the research outcome is likely or who have a startup idea.

The Queen’s Market-Focused Research Workshop Series is a two-day program covering topics such as market/technology assessments, design thinking, intellectual property, effective communication, and commercialization strategies to support your research, research partnerships, and commercialization/startup formation activities.

Further details, along with the application form, can be found here: https://www.queensu.ca/partnershipsandinnovation/market-focused-research-workshop-series
