

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

UNDERGRADUATE BULLETIN: UPPER-YEAR REGISTRATION

Dear upper-year History Students,

In the fall of 2022, the Department of History will begin transitioning to a revised degree plan for all students who declared a History degree in the spring of 2021 and for all future Majors and Medials. This new degree plan requires 3.0-unit seminars instead of the 4.5-unit seminars of the previous plan. To meet the needs of both third and fourth year students during the 2022-2023 academic year, some seminars will be weighted at 3.0-units and others will be weighted at 4.5-units.

The department is dedicated to making sure this is a smooth transition for all students, so we have created this bulletin to help you learn more about your degree plan and determine which courses to take during the 2022-2023 year.

In this issue:

- Pre-2021 Degree Plan vs. "New" Degree Plan
- Advanced Course Selection
- 2022-2023 Seminar Course Offerings (Draft)

Which plan should I follow?

Pre-2021 Degree Plan

Students who enrolled in a History Major or Medial prior to Spring 2021 will remain in their original degree plan, continuing with 4.5-unit upper-year seminars until graduation. Most students in the Pre-2021 degree plan will be entering their fourth-year of study in the fall of 2022. Students in this History Major plan require 6 upper-year seminar courses to graduate and a total of 60 units of History courses, while students in this History Medial plan require 4 upper-year seminar courses and a total of 42 units of History courses.

If you...

- Declared a Major/Medial in 2020 or earlier
- Have already completed one or more upper-year seminars weighted at 4.5-units (HIST 333-499)
- Are going to be in fourth-year in Fall 2022

Take 4.5-unit
seminars
(HIST 333-499)

For a detailed breakdown of the Pre-2021 Degree Plan, please visit the Department of History website.

Unsure which degree plan you're in? Ask Alex at hist.undergrad@queensu.ca

Which plan should I follow?

2021 ("New") Degree Plan

Students who enrolled in a History Major or Medial in the spring of 2021 or later are in the new degree plan, and will take 3.0-unit upper-year seminars to complete their History degree. Most students in the 2021 degree plan will be entering their third-year of study in the fall of 2022. Students in this History Major plan require 6 upper-year seminar courses to graduate and a total of 60 units of History courses, while students in this History Medial plan require 4 upper-year seminar courses and a total of 42 units of History courses.

If you...

- Declared a Major/Medial in 2021 or later
- Have not completed any 4.5-unit upper-year seminars (HIST 333-499)
- Are going into third-year in Fall 2022

Take 3.0-unit
seminars
(HIST 333-499)

For a detailed breakdown of the 2021 (New) Degree Plan, please visit the Department of History website.

Isabel Bader Centre for the Performing Arts
© silentSam architectural photography

All students will receive a final list of seminars via their Queen's email at the end of June.

Advanced Course Selection

July 4th - July 8th

All third and fourth-year History Major and Medial students are invited to participate in History's Advanced Course Selection period which runs from July 4 - July 8, 2022.

During Advanced Course Selection, upper-year History students are guaranteed early enrolment in two upper-year seminars for the 2022-2023 academic year. You will enroll yourself in the rest of your Fall and Winter courses during the regular enrollment period in July. We will provide you with an Advanced Course Selection form where you will indicate your top four choices for your upper-year seminars in Fall 2022 and Winter 2023. You will only be enrolled in two of the four seminars that you request, and we will do our best to accommodate your top choices.

Watch for an email from hist.undergrad@queensu.ca on June 30th to access your Advanced Course Selection Form.

If you have questions about your History plan, upper-year seminars, or your degree requirements, please contact Alex via email or by appointment.

We are here to help!

2022-2023 Upper-Year Seminars (Draft)

4.5-unit seminars

Pre-2021 Degree Plan

FALL 2022:

- HIST 349: Books and Ideas in Early Modern Europe
- HIST 400-001: Machiavelli's World and the Italian Renaissance
- HIST 400-002: Transnational History of Jewish Migration
- HIST 401: A Canadian History of the Family
- HIST 449: Topics in Medieval Mediterranean History: Identities and Interaction in the Medieval Mediterranean (1000-1450 CE)
- HIST 461: Race and Ethnicity in Latin America, 1492 to the Present
- HIST 473: Black Women in US History
- HIST 486: The Social History of Canada, 1919-1980

WINTER 2023:

- HIST 344: Insiders/Outsiders: Jewish Identity in the New World
- HIST 365: History Outside the Book
- HIST 400-001: Global Histories of Political Ecology
- HIST 400-002: Global Approaches to Precolonial and Colonial Cartography
- HIST 400-003: The Global Space Age
- HIST 406: Hunger in Modern European History
- HIST 439: Schooling Canadians
- HIST 471: Power and Knowledge: Foucault for Historians
- HIST 474: History of Gender and Technology

3.0-unit seminars

2021 ("New") Degree Plan

FALL 2022:

- HIST 339: Jews without Judaism
- HIST 402-001: Crime in Canada and the United States, 1776-1970
- HIST 402-002: A Cultural Encounter with Enlightenment France
- HIST 426: Public History
- HIST 442: New World Societies
- HIST 443: The Origins of Crusading and the Creation of the Crusader East
- HIST 448: Thinking Inside the Box: Archives, Politics, and the Past
- HIST 485: The Social History of Canada: 1850-1919
- HIST 499: China Since 1949

WINTER 2023:

- HIST 337: Multiculturalism in the Ottoman Empire
- HIST 402-001: The Harlem Renaissance
- HIST 402-002: Modern Germany from Unification to Reunification
- HIST 402-003: Constructing Whiteness: Race-making in the 20th c. U.S.
- HIST 402-004: Transnational History of Jewish Migration
- HIST 403: Gender and the Body in Canada
- HIST 419: Dante's World: The Italian Renaissance
- HIST 463: Liberalism, Authoritarianism, and Citizenship in Latin America