Important or unusual circumstances may make it necessary for an employee to be absent from work for short periods of time. A sudden serious illness in the employee's household, a medical or dental appointment or other such infrequent emergency normally will not result in loss of salary. Each situation must be decided by the Department Head on a fair, reasonable and equitable standard.

FAMILY LEAVE

Supported Pregnancy Leave

General

Supported Pregnancy Leave in this Article is leave that is financially supported by the University, with top-up payments as outlined in Article 19.07.1 for up to 10 weeks.

Article 19.07
Supported Pregnancy leave is a leave from work of up to 10 weeks with top-up as outlined below. To qualify for Supported Pregnancy Leave, an employee must have been employed continuously for one year or more, hold a current appointment of a year's duration or longer and be in receipt of EI maternity benefits. Eligible employees will receive the top-up provisions specified below with the understanding that the employee is expected to work for the University for at least 6 months following the date of their return from their Supported Pregnancy Leave (including additional leave such as Unsupported Pregnancy Leave, parental leave or a leave of absence without pay after their Supported Pregnancy Leave).

Article 19.07.1

Leave allowance as follows:

a) (Week 1): A payment equivalent to 100% of the employee’s normal basic earnings for the first week of the Supported Pregnancy Leave;

b) (Weeks 2 to 10): For the next 9 weeks of the Supported Pregnancy Leave, the employee will receive from the University, a payment equal to the difference between 100% of the employee’s normal basic earnings and the amount of Employment Insurance maternity benefit the employee is expected to receive if they qualify for EI benefits;

Supported Parental Leave

19.09

Supported Parental Leave in this Article is leave that is financially supported by the University, with top-up payments as outlined in Article 19.09.1 for up to 15 weeks.

19.09.4 (NEW) If an employee is eligible for Supported Pregnancy Leave and Supported Parental Leave the total combined number of weeks for which they are eligible to receive top-up payments shall not exceed 25 weeks. What does this mean?

Given that pregnancy leave and parental leave are intended for two different purposes; specifically, pregnancy leave is intended as a period of recovery after giving birth; whereas, parental leave is intended as a period to spend time with the child, the University has decided that a parent eligible for both leaves should receive the top-up benefit associated with both leaves. The Parties renegotiated the Family Leave language to ensure that each parent has equal access to this benefit.

The Renewed Collective Agreement will include other housekeeping changes related to the updated Family Leave Language. Should you have question regarding Family Leave, please contact your Human Resources Advisor.
ARTICLE 20 – SICK LEAVE
The Parties agreed to replace references of “doctor” or “physician” in this Article with “relevant regulated health care provider”. This is in keeping with the University’s current practice of accepting medical notes from relevant regulated health care providers as appropriate. The word “relevant” is included to ensure that treatment plans and/or recommendations are being provided by an appropriate medical professional. For example, a note from a dentist would not be accepted if medical concerns are not related to oral care.

ARTICLE XX – WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION (NEW)
Reporting Actual or Suspected Violations

XX.01 It is each employee’s obligation, in good faith, to report actual violation(s) of laws, regulations, University policies or procedures, including violations of ethical and professional standards, that come to their attention. It is also each employee’s obligation, when, they have a bona fide basis upon which to believe a violation of laws, regulations, University policies or procedures including violations of ethical and professional standards has occurred, to report such belief and to provide the appropriate authority with the facts and circumstances upon which such belief is based.

XX.02 An employee may report a suspected or actual violation directly to their Manager or Department Head/designate or they may contact the Human Resources Office. In appropriate circumstances, reports may be made anonymously.

XX.03 Reports must provide sufficient, precise and relevant information concerning dates, places, persons, numbers, etc., to allow for a reasonable investigation to take place.

XX.04 Investigations shall be conducted as quickly as possible, based on the nature and complexity of the report and the issues raised.

Protection of Whistleblowers

XX.05 Subject to Article xx.09, any employee who has a bona fide basis upon which to believe wrongdoing has occurred, and who reports a suspected or actual violation of law, regulation, University policy or procedure, or ethical or professional standards, will be protected from retaliation as a result of such reporting, regardless of whether or not, after investigation, a violation is found to have occurred.

XX.06 No member of the University community shall discharge, demote, suspend, threaten, harass or discriminate against a whistleblower for making a bona fide report. This protection extends to each individual who, with bona fide reasons to believe the veracity of information of which they are aware, provides that information in relation to an investigation of a report by a whistleblower.

XX.07 Any act of retaliation shall be treated by the University as a serious violation of policy and may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge from employment for just cause.
XX.08 If a whistleblower believes they are being retaliated against after reporting a violation, they should contact Queen’s Human Resources Office, which may direct the employee to another, more appropriate resource for assistance.

XX.09 Any employee who makes a report pursuant to this Article, which report is determined to be frivolous, vexatious, or made without a bona fide basis upon which to believe wrongdoing has occurred, may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge from employment for just cause.

What does this mean? The Parties included language regarding Whistleblower Protection in the renewed collective agreement to reflect their interest in formalizing the process by which employees can report actual or suspected violations of laws, regulations, and University policies or procedures, including violations of ethical and professional standards, that come to their attention. This language also outlines the ways in which whistleblowers are protected from retaliation as a result of such reporting, regardless of whether or not, after investigation, a violation is found to have occurred. If you have questions regarding this, please contact your Human Resources Advisor.
