I@Q Adjudication Rubric

Criteria	Excellent/Exemplary (4 points)	Very Good/Above Average (3 points)	Good/Satisfactory (2 points)	Poor (1 point)	Unsatisfactory (0 points)
Organization	Included clear introduction, body, and conclusion and smooth transitions.	Included introduction, body and conclusion and transitions.	Some organization. Missing sections or transitions.	Minimal organization and rough transitions.	No logical order of information.
Language	Thoughtful language that effectively explained the research and was appropriate for the audience.	Language used explained the research and was generally appropriate for the audience.	Brief explanations. Research was not appropriately explained for the audience.	Limited effectiveness in explaining the research and terminology. Used some jargon.	Used a lot of jargon, which made presentation difficult to understand.
Delivery	Speaker appeared confident and comfortable, maintained direct eye contact, spoke naturally and directly to an engaged audience without the use of notes.	Speaker made some eye contact and had some engagement with audience. Reading directly from notes/cards sparingly.	Speaker made minimal eye contact and had limited engagement with the audience. Reading directly from notes/cards were used.	Speaker relied heavily on notes, appeared nervous, only made eye contact with the closest audience members, spoke quickly or rushed through the content.	No eye contact. Speaker read entirely from script and did not engage with the audience.
Supporting Material (i.e. Presentation slides)	Supporting materials appropriately represent research, information and analysis and establish presenter credibility/authority.	Supporting materials enhanced the presentation.	Supporting materials did not enhance the presentation.	Supporting materials distracted from the presentation.	No or inappropriate supporting material.
Central Message	Clear central message that is consistent with the supporting material.	Clear central message that is mostly consistent with the supporting material.	A few inconsistencies in the central message.	Several inconsistencies in the central message.	Unclear or inconsistent central message.

Total rating: _____/20 points