

The Equity Committee of the Queen's Department of Philosophy presents

EQUITY AND FOOD

What should we do to make the production and consumption of food equitable, sustainable, and a means of social connection and human flourishing?

A panel discussion with

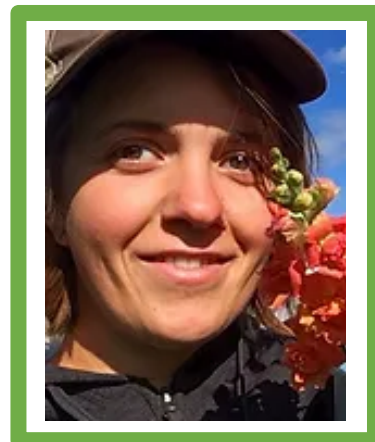

Lee Bess

Scientist
Entomologist, Entomo Farms
Insect Commercialization
Consultant, Bug Mars

Elaine Power

Professor of Kinesiology
Researcher on poverty, class, food, and health, co-author of The Case for Basic Income Freedom, Security, Justice

Ayla Fenton

Food Systems Manager
Loving Spoonful, Kingston community food advocacy and support organisation

Moderator: Professor Dolleen Tisawii'ashii Manning, Queen's National Scholar, Anishinaabe Knowledge, Language and Culture, Department of Philosophy

3pm Wednesday 29 March in Watson 517

Refreshments to follow in the Philosophy Lounge, Watson 341

Donations will be accepted for the Loving Spoonful community kitchen programme

<https://www.loving Spoonful.org>

For information contact: christine.sypnowich@queensu.ca

