TWENTY LESSONS FROM THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

“One afternoon fifty years ago, so much of our turbulent history – the stain of slavery and anguish of war; the yoke of segregation and tyranny of Jim Crow; the death of four little girls in Birmingham, and the dream of a Baptist preacher – met on this bridge. It was not a clash of armies but a contest of wills; a contest to determine the meaning of America.”

“Two hundred and thirty-nine years after this nation’s founding, our union is not yet perfect. But we are getting closer.”

“Make America Great Again”

By Pastor Thomas Robb

“Make America Great Again” is a slogan that has been repeatedly used by Donald Trump in his campaign for the presidency. You can see it on shirts, posters, buttons and billboards such as the one being carried by Trump speaking at a recent campaign rally. Trump evidently anticipated his run for the presidency long before anyone was whispering about Trump and President Obama’s sentences.

Just 6 days after Obama won his second term against Mitt Romney, Trump applied to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for the exclusive ownership and right for use of the slogan. On November 11, 2012, Trump received the application number 8507724.

I am not sure how many people this slogan resonates with, but evidently there was enough to allow Trump to win the Republican primary. The slogan appeals to people who are safely realizing that something has happened to America. And it’s too good.

which are foreign to our traditions, our spirit and our faith. Who would have thought that this day would come upon us when the White House would be it agree with the colors of the rainbow promoting the program of the vile homosexual agenda? Who would have thought that same-sex marriage would be legally (then forcibly) placed upon us? And while it is hard to ask ourselves, “What made America great in the first place?” The short answer to that is simple. America was great not because of what our forefathers did, but because of who our forefathers were. America was founded as a White Christian Republic. And as a White Christian Republic, it became great. In fact, it became the greatest country in the history of the world. America offered political liberty through self-governance and it offered financial liberty through a free market system. Making America great again, however, is not dependent on a Trump presidency but whether you and I can regain the spirit of our forefathers. I am afraid most conservatives (including Trump) have no understanding of this racial issue today that is ticking. We are living among people who have been disconnected from the spirit, values, moral and faith of our forefathers. Every year that passes, this disconnection becomes wider. And that places a great challenge before us. We are in that I should have easily won the Trump University case on summary judgement but have a judge, Gonzalo Curiel, who is totally biased against me.

BRING BACK THE DEATH PENALTY.
BRING BACK OUR POLICE!

What has happened to our City over the past ten years? What has happened to law and order, to the neighborhood? What has happened to people? What has happened to those who love our families, our friends, our neighbors? What has happened to those who work hard to keep us safe, to keep us alive? What has happened to those who break the law, who commit crimes against our people? What has happened to our police force, our fire department, our emergency workers? What has happened to our city, to our society? What has happened to our country?

I am not here to make excuses. I am here to make a difference. I am here to bring back the justice that has been lost. I am here to bring back the respect that has been lost. I am here to bring back the safety that has been lost. I am here to bring back the hope that has been lost.

I am here to bring back the death penalty. It is the only effective way to protect our communities. It is the only effective way to keep our families safe. It is the only effective way to keep our neighbors safe. It is the only effective way to keep our country safe.

I am here to bring back our police force. They are the first responders. They are the heroes. They are the ones who protect us. They are the ones who save us. They are the ones who keep us safe. They are the ones who deserve our respect.

I am here to bring back our courts. They are the ones who ensure justice. They are the ones who ensure fairness. They are the ones who ensure that our laws are followed. They are the ones who ensure that our communities are protected.

I am here to bring back our neighborhoods. They are the ones who make our communities safe. They are the ones who make our families safe. They are the ones who make our neighbors safe. They are the ones who make our country safe.

I am here to bring back our country. It is the only effective way to protect our nation. It is the only effective way to keep our country safe. It is the only effective way to keep our citizens safe. It is the only effective way to keep our future safe.

I am here to bring back the death penalty and bring back our police.

Dear Mr. Elemary,

Please let this letter serve to represent my offer to purchase your site located at 45 Park Place, New York, NY 10007, for what you paid plus 25%. I am making this offer as a resident of New York and citizen of the United States, not because I think the location is a spectacular one (because it is not), but because it will end a very serious, inflammatory, and highly divisive situation that is destined, in my opinion, to only get worse.

As part of the offer, it would be agreed that, if you or your representative were to build a mosque, it would be located at least five blocks farther from the World Trade Center site. This offer is for all cash with an immediate closing and is subject only to the finalization and signing of mutually acceptable documents.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Hopefully, something good can happen!

Sincerely,

Donald J. Trump

Is Donald Trump a Racist?

“Think about how everything is racist now...before Obama got elected, you really didn’t hear much about race, racism or any of that stuff. He’s brought this all to us...I think he’s done this country more harm in that respect than anybody could.”

“[Muslim immigrants are] expecting us to conform to their culture, rather than they to Americanism. And they look at – we need to build their mosque, but on the other hand we can’t even say prayers in our own schools anymore. And yet we can build mosques across the country.”

“I think we’ll have a very big recession [if Clinton wins]. We’ll have a flood of immigrants come across the border, flooding our health care system, flooding our education system, flooding our prisons. You’ll see a real downturn in the standard of living you now know as American.”

“It’s been a dark eight years. And I mean a dark eight years... I’ve watched my country go from a place where I felt safe to a very unsafe world. I don’t feel safe anymore, here.”

“Amid it all, two figures ever stand to typify that day to coming ages, - the one, a gray-haired gentlemen, whose fathers had quit themselves like men, whose sons lay in nameless graves; who bowed to the evil of slavery because its abolition threatened untold ill to all; who stood at last, in the evening of life, a blighted, ruined form, with hate in his eyes; - and the other, a form hovering dark and mother-like, her awful face black with the mists of centuries, had aforetime quailed at that white master’s command, had bent in love over the cradles of his sons and daughters, and closed in death the sunken eyes of his wife, - aye, too, at his behest had laid herself low to his lust, and borne a tawny man-child to the world, only to see her dark boy’s limbs scattered to the winds by midnight marauders riding after ‘cursed Niggers.’ These were the saddest sights of that woeful day; and no man clasped the hands of these two passing figures of the present-past; but, hating, they went to their long home, and, hating, their children’s children live to-day.” (Du Bois, The Souls of Black Folk, 1903)
