

FACULTY SUPERVISION POLS 590 THESIS	AREA OF RESEARCH
Cathy Conaghan	Latin American Politics American Politics
Wayne Cox	Middle East/Conflict IR(International Relations) Theory Canadian Foreign Policy International Political Economy
Colin Farrelly	Theories of Justice Liberalism Bioethics Ethics and Public Policy
Andrew Grant	Natural Resource Governance Non-State Armed Groups Conflict in Africa Regional Security
Oded Haklai	Ethnic Conflict Middle East
David Haglund	IR (International Relations) U.S. Foreign Policy
Kyle Hanniman	Federalism-Canadian and Comparative Economic and Fiscal Policy
Andrew Lister	Theories of Justice (social or distributive justice; religious pluralism, toleration, and public reason;normative theories of democracy;libertarianism and classical liberalism
Jonathan Rose	Deliberation Public Participation Political Advertising
Stéfanie von Hlatky	Canadian Foreign Policy NATO/Alliances Civil-military relations
Elizabeth Goodyear-Grant	Canadian and comparative politics; elections and voting behaviour; gender and political behaviour; women candidates and legislators; media and politics; *

Margaret Little	Welfare; poverty; violence; Canadian social policy; an intersectional analysis of the Canadian second wave women's movement *
Margaret Moore	Margaret Moore has a wide range of interests in contemporary political philosophy. Her interests include territorial justice, global distributive justice, just war theory, historical injustice, democratic theory, rights, nationalism, multiculturalism, immigration, and selected theorists in the history of political thought. *
Kim Nossal	Canadian foreign and defence policy; Australian foreign and defence policy; Canadian-American relations; international stabilization missions. *
John McGarry	Power-sharing; federalism; conflict resolution; constitutional design; politics of deeply divided places, such as Cyprus, Iraq, Northern Ireland, etc.*
Eleanor MacDonald	Contemporary political thought, including: identity politics, feminist theory, critical theory, postmodern theory, Marxist theory, anti-racist theory, psychoanalytic theory, environmental theory, cultural studies, narrative theory, queer theory, race and sexuality studies, feminism, and transgender politics*
Janet Hiebert	Politics of Rights (Canada, UK, Australia, New Zealand); Canadian federalism*

*taken from faculty member's website