W.R. Nadège Compaoré is a Joseph-Armand Bombardier Canada Graduate Scholar and doctoral candidate in the Department of Political Studies at Queen's University. Her doctoral research investigates the political economy of transparency in global oil governance, and draws upon extensive field research conducted in Gabon, Ghana, and South Africa. Compaoré is co-editor of New Approaches to the Governance of Natural Resources: Insights from Africa (with J.A. Grant and M.I. Mitchell, Palgrave 2014). From January to March 2013, she was a Research Fellow with the Governance of Africa's Resources Programme at the South African Institute of International Affairs in Cape Town. From June to August 2013, she was a Visiting Graduate Student with the Faculty of Law and Economics at Omar Bongo University in Libreville, Gabon. Compaoré will take up the position of Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada Postdoctoral Fellow at the Department of Social Science of York University in January 2016.
