

The Department of Political Studies and the CIDP present

ETHNIC DIASPORAS AND THE CANADA-UNITED STATES SECURITY COMMUNITY

David Haglund
Queen's University

Wednesday, March 2, 2016

2:30 - 3:30 pm

Mackintosh-Corry Hall, Rm. B-313

*Book launch reception with light refreshments to follow in the department lounge \(Mac-Corry C-312\)

David G. Haglund is a Professor of Political Studies at Queen's University. His research focuses on transatlantic security, and on Canadian and American international security policy. Among his books are Latin America and the Transformation of U.S. Strategic Thought, 1936-1940 (1984), The New Geopolitics of Minerals: Canada and International Resource Trade (1986), and Over Here and Over There: Canada-US Defence Cooperation in an Era of Interoperability (2001). He has recently completed a monograph on ethnic diasporas and their impact upon security relations between the United States and Canada, entitled Ethnic Diasporas and the Canada-US Security Community: From the Civil War to Today (2015).