

Developmental Psychology: Graduate Program Requirements

Master of Science

The master's program normally extends over two calendar years.

For students with an honours degree in psychology the requirements for the master's program are:

- PSYC 801
- PSYC 802
- PSYC 899 (thesis to be completed by the end of the second year in the program)

Plus the following program-specific requirements, selected in consultation with the student's supervisor and program chair:

- one course from: PSYC 841, PSYC 851, and PSYC 852 each year
- one Developmental Theory course: PSYC 842 or PSYC 843
- one Cognitive Development course: PSYC 853, PSYC 854, or PSYC 855
- and one Social/Atypical Development course: PSYC 856, PSYC 857, or PSYC 859

In years when offered, students may take PSYC 959 or PSYC 960 to meet requirements, contingent on the permission of the supervisor and program chair.
