Course Goals and Objectives

The purpose of this course is to provide a comprehensive introduction to theories of diagnosis, etiology, and treatment of abnormal behaviour. The first part of the Fall term will be spent examining issues related to the conceptualization, assessment, and classification of abnormal behaviour. The rest of the Fall term, and the Winter term, will describe in detail a range of disorders with reference to theories of etiology, classification, and treatment. Controversial topics will be presented in this course that will challenge students to think critically and creatively.

The course will be presented as a series of 150 min lectures, as outlined below. Although lectures will be based on the topics covered in the text, there will not be enough class time to deal with every topic. Students are responsible for the material in the text that is not covered during class time. Assigned readings should be done before the lecture and will help in the understanding of material presented in lectures. The lectures will also present new material not covered by the textbook, reflecting the most current research and knowledge: students are also responsible for this material, and therefore it is important to attend all lectures.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is constituted by the five core fundamental values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility (see www.academicintegrity.org). These values are central to the building, nurturing, and sustaining of an academic community in which all members of the community will thrive. Adherence to the values expressed through academic integrity forms a foundation for the "freedom of inquiry and exchange of ideas" essential to the intellectual life of the University (see the Senate Report on Principles and Priorities).

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the regulations concerning academic integrity and for ensuring that their assignments conform to the principles of academic integrity. Information on academic integrity is available in the Arts and Science Calendar (see Academic Regulation 1), on the Arts and Science website (see <http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/sites/default/files/Academic%20Regulations.pdf>), and from the instructors of this course.

Departures from academic integrity include plagiarism, use of unauthorized materials, facilitation, forgery and falsification, and are antithetical to the development of an academic community at Queen's. Given the seriousness of these matters, actions that contravene the regulation on academic integrity carry sanctions that can range from a warning or the loss of grades on an assignment, to the failure of a course, or a requirement to withdraw from the university.

Copyright of Course Materials

Course material is copyrighted and is for the sole use of students registered in Psyc235. This material shall not be distributed or disseminated to anyone other than students registered in Psyc235. Failure to abide by these conditions is a breach of copyright, and may also constitute a breach of academic integrity under the University Senate's Academic Integrity Policy Statement.

Course evaluation

Evaluation for this course will consist of 2 noncumulative in-class exams and 2 cumulative semester exams.

In-class Exam I: October 18th during class period, 20% of the final grade

Semester I Exam: During exam period, TBA, 30% of the final grade

In-class Exam II: During class period, TBA, 20% of the final grade

Semester II Exam: During exam period, TBA, 30% of the final grade

In-class exams will consist of 50 multiple choice questions and will be noncumulative.

Semester exams will consist of 50 multiple choice questions covering the last half of the semester (similar to in-class exams), and 4 short answer and 4 fill-in-the-blank questions that examine all material covered in that semester.

Students are responsible for all material in the textbook, even if it is not directly covered in class. Likewise, students are responsible for all material covered in class, even if it is not addressed in the textbook.

Psyc235 Special Accommodations for Exams

If a student requires special accommodations (e.g., extra time) for an in-class exam, it is their responsibility to contact the head TA, Samantha Dawson, and provide documentation from Student Disability Services at least 2 weeks prior to the exam. Accommodations for semester exams, during the December and April exam periods, are handled directly through the Exams Office, once you have registered with Student Disability Services.

Exam Accommodation Policy

Students can only be excused from examinations for compassionate reasons such as illness, accident, or a death in the family. Written documentation must be provided.

1. Students who cannot write an exam during the December or April exam period due to a serious, extenuating circumstance (with the supporting documentation required as outlined above) must be available to write a deferred exam during the Psychology Department's Make up Exam period January 11/12th, April 29th, or September 13/14th,

2013. Students must obtain permission from their instructor to write a deferred exam. This requires notifying your instructor in advance or, under extraordinary circumstances, within 72 hours after the exam, with appropriate documentation. Please use the Request for an Exam Deferral form found on the Psychology Department website or from the UG office and attach your documentation.

2. Complete and return the instructor-signed Permission for an Incomplete Grade form available on the Arts and Science website and return it to the UG office.
http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/sites/default/files/Permission_for_an_incomplete_grade%2021jan2011.pdf
3. Be available to write the makeup exam during the first available PSYC Make up Exam period January 11/12th, April 29th, or September 13/14th, 2013.

NOTE: Students who do not write the makeup semester exam are advised to drop the course. If a student cannot write the makeup exam due to a serious extenuating circumstance for which they can provide new documentation, they will either be granted a second deferral by their instructor or be supported in their appeal to drop the course after the deadline, though this decision rests with the Associate Dean (Studies).

Appropriate documentation includes a signed letter from a registered health professional, Queen's HCDS, or documentation of a death such as a bulletin from a memorial service, obituary (newspaper or online) or funeral home letter. Official documents will be copied and originals returned to the student. Note that the PSYC department randomly checks document authenticity and that fraudulent documents will be grounds for a finding of a major departure from academic integrity.

Accommodation after the fact. Once a student has written an exam or submitted an assignment, they may not subsequently be granted accommodation such as being offered a second opportunity to write the exam or assignment or have it count for less than originally specified in the course syllabus (e.g., reweighted).

Travel during exams. According to university regulations, students are expected to be available to write scheduled exams at any time during the official December and April examination periods as well as during any scheduled class times. Requests to write a makeup exam because of conflicting travel plans (e.g., flight bookings) or requests to miss an in class exam due to other plans will NOT be considered except under extraordinary circumstances. Students are advised to wait until the final exam schedules are posted before making any travel arrangements.
