For the 2018-2019 academic year the Department of Psychology will be seeking Teaching Assistants for the below listed courses. You can cross-reference the courses with the undergraduate calendar for course descriptions on the undergraduate website at: http://www.queensu.ca/psychology/undergraduate/current-students/course-information

Undergraduate timetable details can be found on SOLUS. The Fall/Winter teaching assistantship application form can be found on our forms webpage next week or attached http://www.queensu.ca/psychology/graduate-program/current-students/graduate-program-forms-and-policies.

Due date to submit your application to the psychology graduate office (psychelp@queensu.ca) is WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 2018.

The primary purpose for teaching assistantships is for the support of undergraduate teaching. Consequently, academic requirements of the courses for which teaching assistantships exist is mandatory. Duties of a TAship will vary from course to course but may include the following non-exhaustive list: contact with students (e.g., leading labs or tutorials, office hours, answering email, monitoring websites); contact with Instructor; proctoring; marking; etc.
