QChaT mentorship program available again for 2018-2019

Friday October 19, 2018
Queen's Psychology

QChaT was founded by Steve Lamontagne (PSYC PhD student) in 2017 to encourage undergraduate students to connect with graduate students in Psychology.

QChaT is a mentorship program that uses instant messaging software to connect students with graduate mentors. Undergrads can book an appointment with a graduate mentor of their choice and ask questions about courses, graduate school, funding applications, or anything else!

This year, we have 6 new mentors and we have extended our chat time from 15 to 30 minutes. Browse the mentor list and book a chat today!

Please contact Steve if you have any questions: 9S JL7@queensu.ca or go to the website.