Topic
Higher order mechanisms for the recovery from spinal cord injury

Most researches currently conducted on the spinal cord injury are focusing on “how to cure the spinal cord”. However, if we consider that recovery is a learning process to acquire novel strategies to be adapted to the injury, we should consider the involvement of higher order structures in the recovery process. In this seminar, I will talk on how the higher areas such as cortical motor areas including premotor cortex or ipsilesional motor cortex and even the limbic motivation centers such as the nucleus accumbens, which are usually not involved in the direct motor control, are dynamically recruited to the recovery process in the macaque monkey model of partial spinal cord injury.

INTERNSHIP: MIND AND DEVELOPMENT LAB AT YALE UNIVERSITY

The Mind and Development Lab at Yale University under the direction of Dr. Paul Bloom, is accepting applications for our annual Summer Internship Program. Our research explores how children and adults understand the physical and social world, including topics such as morality, religion, free will, and the nature of the self. For information about our current research, please see our lab website and Dr. Bloom's Google Scholar page.

This internship will provide interns with the opportunity to work with graduate students and postdocs on both ongoing and new studies. Because projects are at various stages of completion (from pre-design to post-data collection), interns will be able to be involved with a wide range of activities over the course of the internship. Activities may include developing new project ideas, designing new experiments, recruiting participants, running experiments, analyzing data, and presenting results. We are a developmental lab and primarily work with children ages 4-10.

The internship takes place at our on-site location in New Haven, Connecticut and runs full-time (40 hours per week) from June 1st to August 7th, 2020.

It is highly encouraged to apply for outside funding from one's own university, and we are happy to support these applications. Alternatively, there may be some funding available through the lab if funding cannot be achieved through one's own university.

Who can apply? The internship is open to all undergraduate students, those graduating in 2020, and recent college graduates. It is particularly suited for students considering graduate school in experimental psychology or cognitive science.

How do I apply?

- Fill out the online application
- Send us a copy of your resume or CV to minddevmanager@gmail.com
- Request one academic letter of recommendation to be sent to minddevmanager@gmail.com
  - Letters of rec must be sent directly from the person writing it! Interns should NOT email their own letters of recommendation

For any questions regarding this application, please email the lab manager, Alexa Sacchi, at minddevmanager@gmail.com

All application materials are due March 20, 2020 by midnight EST
THIS IS NOT YOUR REGULAR PITCH COMPETITION. WE WANT TO GIVE YOU A JOB!

The Mayor’s Innovation Challenge is a case competition whereby teams of up to three students from any of Kingston’s post-secondary institutions can pitch an innovative solution to an identified challenge being faced by the city. This year, there will be two challenge streams, with four category options in total. Each challenge stream will have its own coveted prize, which will include an operating budget, as well as a four-month, paid internship with either the City of Kingston or a needs based internship with the Dunin-Deshpande Queen’s Innovation Centre Summer Internship program for winning teams to implement their idea. The four challenge options are as follows:

The Dunin-Deshpande Smart Kingston Stream

☐ 4-month internship with the Dunin-Deshpande Queen’s Innovation Centre, $4,000 in seed capital, and access to the 2019 QICSI program to implement the winning idea.

1. Smart Kingston Challenge: People Focused, Culture Focused, Privacy and Security Focused and climate focused

Public Sector Innovation Challenge

☐ 4-month paid internship with the City of Kingston, along with a $10,000 operating budget to implement the winning idea.

The Integrated Program in Neuroscience at McGill University will be hosting its annual Open House Week throughout the week of February 10, 2020. We invite all those who are intending to apply to the IPN next year, and those who are keen on pursuing their graduate degree in neuroscience with us.

Our 2020 Open House week will feature the following events:

- Welcome Day: Meet our admin staff members and students to learn more about our program structure, admissions, funding and student life.
- Lab Tours: Join us as we tour 7 of our supervisors’ labs across McGill campus. Limited spots.
- Networking Luncheon: Meet, network with and discuss grad life and job prospects with IPN Ph.D. student, Daniel Almeida. Catered lunch. Limited spots.

MOCK LSAT DAY

Are you thinking about applying to Law School?

Join us for a free practice LSAT and sample class and Mock test with The Princeton Review! Both events will be at Queen’s University. Stay updated with our Facebook event!

The Free Class is Thursday, February 6th from 4:30 - 5:30pm, where an expert instructor will walk you through some tips and strategies to use on your practice test!

Then, on Saturday, February 8th from 10am-2pm we'll have a practice test and give you a chance to see what the real LSAT is like. You'll be fully proctored by a TPR team member and will get access to your score report online within a week of the test. Both rooms should be confirmed very soon.

It's a great way to start your studying! We’re also having a Law School Symposium with an application overview and law student panel on March 4th at 6pm.

Register for these events at www.tinyurl.com/TPRMockLSAT or, by calling 1.800.273.8439 x. 5593

Leadership Opportunity: Chapter President for a Non-Profit Organization

The Brain Exercise Initiative is a student run 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that focuses on improving the memory and cognitive function of those with Alzheimer's using simple math, writing and reading aloud exercises. It is found that simple math exercises and reading aloud for just 30 minutes a day can have a positive impact on memory for those with Alzheimer's. This is currently being done extensively in Japan. It was discovered by a Japanese neuroscientist, Ryuta Kawashima, and consists of math exercises and reading aloud of short stories. Done for just 30 minutes a day, 5 times a week, improvements in Alzheimer's patients have been observed. This practice is currently being done in 1,400 care homes with 15,000 Alzheimer's patients all over Japan and has had great success. Many individuals showed improvements in communication and behavior. Some went from being bedridden to sitting in a chair or walking. Additionally, they began to feel happier.

You can find out more information about our organization here: www.brainexerciseinitiative.com.

As president of your chapter, you will be responsible for reaching out to retirement homes, finding and training volunteers, and implementing the program successfully. If you wish to take on this leadership role, please email our president, Esin Gumustekin, at egumustekin@g.ucla.edu.
Upcoming Conferences of Interest

The 9th Annual Interdisciplinary Conference in Psychology

This national, peer-reviewed conference will take place on May 7th and 8th, 2020. We are accepting abstract submissions from students and professors studying topics related to psychology from January 6th - February 15th, 2020.

About ICP:

The Interdisciplinary Conference in Psychology (ICP) is an international peer-reviewed academic conference organized each year by graduate and undergraduate students from the School of Psychology at the University of Ottawa. ICP will be celebrating its ninth anniversary on May 7th and 8th, 2020 in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

ICP aims to foster reflections and discussions on the different innovative approaches towards interdisciplinary research. The conference is an event for all students, professors, and researchers. It offers a unique opportunity to showcase and discuss innovative research on all topics related to psychology. It provides a forum for interdisciplinary learning and collaboration between students and experts.

For more information about ICP, please visit our website: www.icp-cip.com.

DrugSmart: A pharmacy located in the Queen's Centre.

Environmental Health and Safety
Food Centre, AMS: A non-profit, confidential, and non-judgmental food service for members of the Queen’s community.

Peer Support Centre:
The Peer Support Centre is a service on campus that provides one-on-one peer support to all undergraduate students. It thrives on being confidential and non-judgemental. Every student is always welcome to drop-in for a chat or resource referral. Students are free to talk about anything they choose. No problem is too big or too small! We are open 10am - 10pm, 7 days a week starting in September.

Disability Services
Student Wellness Services assists students in the following ways:

- Recommends exam accommodations
- Facilitates access to material in alternate formats
- Provides assistive technologies
- Coordinates learning strategies and library research workshops
- Coordinates volunteer note-taking and peer mentor programs

NOTE: Students with disabilities who wish to make use of the services available must register at Disability Services every academic year and must forward supporting documentation to the Student Wellness Services Office.

Other disability services offered at Queen’s include...

- Learning Strategies Development: This program enhances students’ ability to learn effectively and helps students develop greater confidence in their abilities.
- Learning Disabilities Specialists: Offered through the Regional Assessment and Resource Centre, these specialists provide assessment and services for students with possible learning disabilities and other neuropsychological conditions.
- InvisAbilities: A student organization promoting awareness, education, and support of young adults living with hidden chronic illness. Started at Queen’s in 2009, the group has spread to include chapters at McGill University, University of Ottawa, Brock University, and University of Calgary.
Academic Support

The transition to university life is a big one – and part of it is adjusting to the challenges and workload that are part of being a Queen’s student. At Queen’s you are never alone. We have many offices dedicated to helping you learn, think, and do.

The Learning Commons

The Queen's Learning Commons (QLC) is both a hub of services supporting formal academic programs and a meeting place within Stauffer Library. It encompasses physical and online environments, accommodating different approaches to learning.

The QLC provides resources, workshops and seminars, and one-on-one professional consultations for students who want to enhance or develop their skills.

The QLC is composed of:

- The Adaptive Technology Centre / Library Services for Students with Disabilities
- ITServices: Services include many learning resources and workshop opportunities
- Queen's Library: Services include Subject Liaison Librarians who can help you locate resources for your field of study
- Student Academic Success Services who can help you improve your writing and academic skills and confidence through online resources, workshops and individual appointments.
