STUDENT RESOURCES

Student Wellness Services (SWS)

Support and Resources for Black-identified, Racialized and Indigenous students

Individual Counselling

SWS is offering individual counselling sessions for Black-identified students with a black-identified counselling professional. To book an appointment with E.L. Adams, a clinical and educational psychologist in the Kingston community, students can email counselling.services@queensu.ca

Students can also request individual counselling sessions with Dr. Arunima Khanna, Counsellor Cross-Cultural, Diversity and Equity Affairs by emailing counselling.services@queensu.ca

Group Supports

Dr. Adams will be holding the last of three group sessions for black-identified students this Friday, June 26, at 1pm. This is the final part of the Active Pausing: Zooming in on the Burdens of Anti-Black Racism series organized by The Human Rights and Equity Office and Student Affairs. These sessions focus on the burden of carrying the responsibility for educating others or bringing on change. Students can register here – the Zoom link will be shared with attendees on the day of the event.

- Online Group Support for Racialized students
  - Join Dr. Arunima Khanna for an opportunity to learn and reflect. This safe space group offers support for racialized students and provides an opportunity to reflect on topics of inequity, oppression and racism.
  - Come to one or all 3 sessions on Mondays June 29th, July 6th & 13th from 4-5pm
  - Sign-up here – zoom link will be shared with attendees upon registration

One-on-one counselling for Black and Racialized students

- Students can request individual counselling with E.L. Adams, a clinical and educational psychologist in the Kingston community and/or Dr. Arunima Khanna, Counsellor Cross-Cultural, Diversity and Equity Affairs.
- To set up an appointment, please email your requests to counselling.services@queensu.ca

Wellness & cultural programming, one-on-one and group counselling for Indigenous students

Lisa Doxtator provides one-on-one and group counselling, as well as wellness and cultural programming to Indigenous students. To set up a meeting with Lisa, students can email at lmdo@queensu.ca. For additional services and supports for Indigenous students, visit the Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre’s website.

The BRAMS Laboratory invites you to answer a short survey aiming to explore the psychological impacts of the pandemic and the role of music on well-being during the COVID-19 crisis.

Since your time is precious, this survey’s duration is approximately 10-15 minutes.

To participate, you must be 14+ years old and understand English or French. You don’t have to be a musician to participate.

After completing the survey, you will have access to tips to cope with the crisis. Additionally, you’ll have the chance to win a 25$ Amazon gift-card.

We thank you in advance for participating in this short survey. Your participation is extremely important for the success of this study.
