

2025-26 Enrolment Report

About this Report

This report details student enrolment at Queen's University as of November 1, 2025. It includes total enrolments, and details of the incoming first-year undergraduate class, and incoming graduate students. Intake refers to the number of new students entering a program in an academic year, while enrolment reflects the total number of students registered at a point in time. Differences between intake and enrolment reflect factors such as program length, retention, graduation, and returning students across cohorts.

This report also provides results of measures in place to increase the diversity of the incoming undergraduate class, and promote access among under-represented communities, including expanded outreach activities, as well as international, and self-identified Indigenous and first-generation student enrolment. Finally, this report details student retention, graduation and completion rates. For more information about recruitment activities and financial aid and awards, please see the 2024-25 Student Affairs Annual Report.

Most content in this report is reflected in the Preliminary Fall Intake chart on page 11, and the Preliminary Enrolment Summary chart on page 12, both prepared by the Office of Planning and Budgeting. Additional data sources are noted.

Sincere thanks to all contributors.

Queen's University is situated on traditional Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee Territory.

Total Indigenous Students

The information at right is compiled from undergraduate and graduate applications, through the admission verification process, and the university's self-identification mechanism on SOLUS. Indigenous enrolment is believed to be under-representative as some students choose not to self-identify.

Resources, access, and services that are restricted based on Indigenous identity are allocated to students with verified Indigenous identity.

Total Part-Time Students

1,704
undergraduate part-time students

1,389
graduate part-time students

Distance Studies Students

931
undergraduate distance studies students**

Queen's offers fully online undergraduate degree options; the School of Graduate Studies and Post-Doctoral Affairs offers 4 master's and PhD programs in a blended format of online and in-person learning. Students in these programs are counted in the total SGSPA enrolment on page 2.

*Includes distance, non-credit, part-time, and away on exchange.

**FT Distance BA, BSC, BHS, and all PT Distance.

International First-Year Students

Queen's continues to strengthen its global recruitment efforts with a renewed focus on strategic engagement in China and other priority markets via direct outreach as well as through digital media platforms and campaigns. The Queen's Commitment Package, including scholarships, early residence move-in, airport pick-up, and transition supports, was further refined to improve the pre-arrival experience for incoming students. To further support applicants navigating evolving Canadian immigration requirements, Queen's has expanded study permit assistance through a dedicated immigration specialist within Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment as well as legal support and representation through Queen's partnership with BorderPass.

**All new international students (fee-paying and students eligible for international fee exemption).

Increasing Access and Diversity

Queen's continues to work to increase the diversity of the incoming undergraduate class and promote access among under-represented communities. Queen's Access and Inclusion team in Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment expanded connections with students, families, and community agencies in underserved communities to provide information on programs and options for financing a Queen's education. Key to supporting this increased outreach is our Equity Ambassador program.

For more information about some of the university's Major Awards and Bursaries that promote access and diversity, please see page 13.

Indigenous Students

Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment works closely with Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre to coordinate outreach to prospective students and together visited more communities and schools across Ontario. Together with staff at the Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre and current Indigenous students, the team supports Indigenous applicants through the admission process, and promotes Queen's Indigenous Admission Pathway, the expanded Indigenous Applicant Handbook, and the comprehensive programs, services, and supports for Indigenous students on campus.
