

Danielle LaGrone
Queen's School of Religion
Theological Hall, Suite 211
Kingston, ON Canada K7L3N6
dl22@queensu.ca

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

Continuing Adjunct Professor, Religion, Queen's University (2005-present)

Sessional Lecturer, Electives, University of Guelph-Humber (2018-present)

Academic Assistant, Continuing and Distance Studies (Writing), Queen's University (2018-present)

EDUCATION

Ph.D Candidate, University of Toronto (2003-2010)
Indian and Tibetan Buddhism; Gender Studies

M.A. University of Alberta (2003)
Thesis: "Conceptions of Women in Buddhist Tantra"

B.A.H. Queen's University (2000)

TEACHING

Queen's University

Religion 131 (Online): World Religions/Religious Worlds (2007-present)

Religion 239 (Online): Women and World Religion (2006)

Religion 131: World Religions/Religious Worlds (Asian religions) (2005-2006)

University of Guelph-Humber

AHSS 2360: Judaism, Christianity, Islam (2020)

Course Director, Study Abroad (Japan 2019)

AHSS 2410 (DE01) (Online): Religious Traditions of Asia (2018-present)

University of Toronto

Religion 206: Introduction to Buddhist Traditions (2007)

OTHER TEACHING: TEACHING ASSISTANT

Queen's University

Writing 120: Effective Writing (2019-present)

Writing 240: Writing for Social Media and the Web (2018-present)

Religion 250: Heroes, Heroines, and Saints (2006)

University of Toronto

Religion 373: Modern Japan: Culture and Society (Winter 2007)

Religion 205: South Asian Religion (Winter 2007)

Religion 206: Introduction to Buddhist Traditions (2006-2007)

Religion 363: Hindu Ritual (Fall 2006)

Humanities 303-04: Religious Traditions of the World (2004-2006)

SCHOLARSHIP

Books

Routledge Critical Concepts in Religious Studies: Women in Religion.
Pamela Klassen with Shari Golberg and Danielle Lefebvre (2010)

Refereed Articles

“The Challenge of Defining a Women’s Tantric Buddhist History.” Studies in Religion. (2010)

Research Presentations

Adjusting for Gender: Reflections on the North American Study of Women in Buddhism,” American Academy of Religion/Eastern Regional Meeting, University of Waterloo. (2010)

“The Challenge of Defining a Women’s Tantric Buddhist History,” Canadian Society for Studies in Religion (CSSR) Annual Meeting, University of Western Ontario. (2005)

“Conceptualizations of Gender in Buddhist Tantra,” Canadian Society for Women in Philosophy (C-SWIP) Annual General Meeting, University of Alberta. (2002)