

RELS 200: RELIGION AND GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT

Queen's University School of Religion

Taught by: Professor Amarnath Amarasingam

This course will examine the vital role that different religious ideas and groups play in major development organizations and initiatives. Students will look at how religious ideas and groups have influenced issues around global poverty, pandemics, child welfare, economics and debt relief, education, etc.

Grading

Attendance and Participation 10%

Midterm 35%

Book Review 20%

Final 35%

Time Commitment per Week

8 hours

Prerequisite

Level 2

Required Textbook/Materials

TBD