“I loved my experience in residence. I can safely say that my time in Leonard Hall was the best year I’ve had at Queen’s. All of my housemates now lived on my floor three years ago, and we will likely be friends for life. There is nothing better than Lenny brunch or a late-night Lazy burrito with friends.”

Introduction

This Residence Contract (the “Contract”) is a legally binding document between you (the “Student” or “you”) and Queen’s University (the “University”) as represented by Queen’s Residence Life and Services (“Residence”, “Residences” or “we”). It is in place so that expectations are clear and to help reduce misunderstandings between you and the University.

In executing this Contract, you understand and agree that you are waiving certain legal rights. It is very important for you to read and understand this Contract before committing to live in Residence.

By carefully reading and adhering to this contract, you actively contribute to fostering a secure and harmonious residence community for yourself, your fellow students, as well as the entire residence staff. Your cooperation is essential, so please take the time to read it attentively.

Mission, Vision, Values

Housing & Ancillary Services align our Values to the Mission and Vision of both Queen's University and Student Affairs. Together, we write a thriving future for all.

OUR VALUES

Wellbeing – we nurture the health, safety and wellbeing of our people and community, fostering a sense of belonging and inclusion for students and staff. We promote mental, physical, and emotional wellness and support personal skill development, resiliency, and success.

Responsibility – we commit to our responsibility to build a diverse, equitable, inclusive and anti-racist community for our staff, students and guests. We continually look for ways to contribute to the university's sustainability objectives. We are accountable to our commitments: to steward the assets we maintain, deliver quality services and programs, contribute a financial return to the university and create a welcoming environment for all.

Innovation – we foster an entrepreneurial mindset across our operations, challenging the status quo and leveraging creativity, innovation and technology to grow revenue and ensure that our services evolve to meet the changing needs of students and the clients we serve. We are guided by data and evidence when solving problems, responding to feedback and assessing new opportunities.

Teamwork – we do our best work when we act collaboratively, demonstrating collegiality, empathy and respect. We trust by default, assume positive intent and communicate honestly. We seek input from diverse perspectives, respecting all people and their viewpoints. We work with colleagues and partners to nurture synergies and solve problems together. We celebrate success and align support for continuous improvement.

Experience – we support each other and see things from a student's perspective. We collaborate with Faculties, students and others to deliver engagement opportunities that build community. We strive for excellence in everything we do because your experience matters to us. We invite feedback, listen and respond, to improve our services for students, clients and staff.

1.3 Guiding Principles for Residence Community Living

Residence Life and Services creates a community environment where all of our students can feel a sense of belonging, build resilience, and be academically successful. We encourage the personal development of our community members by fostering a sense of belonging, providing a wide range of educational and academic programming, and holding individuals accountable for violations of the Residence behavioural expectations. The reality is, not everyone is well suited for the inherent aspects of living in Residence. It is a high density, communal living environment, where it is required that you have a higher level of awareness, care and respect for your impact on others living in your community. You are solely accountable for the decisions you make while living in Residence, and you must reflect on how those decisions impact you and everyone else around you.

While differences are invaluable and make learning and life more vibrant, when living in close quarters, mistaken assumptions, misunderstanding and conflict are bound to occur. It is important to have a pre-established, clear and common set of expectations and standards for living together. The completion of the Community Agreement Form is an additional required element to set expectations within your community/floor. The Community Agreements are developed with your Don and other students in your community; you'll talk about the Community Agreement during your first community meeting after moving in. Living with others in a university student Residence is different from living in a private apartment or house or with your family, friends or housemates/roommates. What an individual may feel comfortable with in private may not be safe or appropriate in a shared residential setting.

One of the most critical responsibilities you take on as a member of this Residence community is to report or share information about any incidents of misconduct that you are aware of, where there may be a risk of harm, a possible violation of the Residence Contract, or a negative impact on the dignity of any other resident. As community members, all residents have the individual and collective responsibility to create a positive and welcoming environment for all students.

This document, as a part of the overall Residence experience, is designed to:

Encourage all residents to use and enjoy residence spaces peacefully and safely

Challenge residents to think critically, accept responsibility for their actions, and learn and grow from their experiences.

Maintain an environment that promotes learning.

Emphasize the rights, responsibilities, histories, dignity, and academic pursuits of all residents.

Provide guidance for residents to understand the expectations of living in a community environment.

Emphasize the rights and responsibilities of residents in promoting a safe, healthy, and inclusive environment for all members of their community.

1.4 Indigenization – Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, Anti-Racism, and Accessibility

Residence Life and Services is committed to creating and supporting communities where Indigenization - Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, Anti-Racism, and Accessibility (I-EDIAA) are embraced and celebrated.

We are strengthened and enriched by our diverse backgrounds, perspectives, and lived experiences. We acknowledge that identity is multi-dimensional and understand privilege as dynamic and individualized. We acknowledge that we have much work still to do to create and sustain our vision for a fully inclusive residence environment that is welcoming to all students. This is a collective and individual requirement; you must be committed to respecting one another and embracing the differences we all bring to the community.

We acknowledge the harms done by our colonial past and are committed to doing what is necessary to alter the deeply entrenched behaviours and structures that perpetuate inequities. We are actively working to eliminate discrimination, injustice, and violence and to engage our communities in dialogue and action; we welcome the participation of our students as we move forward on these important initiatives.

Residents have the right to live peacefully and thrive in Residence regardless of their race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, and mental or physical disability. You can find further information about grounds protected by the Ontario Human Rights

Code in the Harassment and Discrimination Policy.

Harassment, discrimination, intimidation, including, but not limited to actions that seek to target, exclude and/or shame a person based on a part of their identity is a violation of human rights and will not be tolerated in Residence. You are expected to live by these principles, and we will denounce and hold accountable anyone who does not. All actions will be taken seriously and will be investigated by University Staff. We encourage all to participate in Residence processes and activities to generate discourse on the theme of making a more equitable and inclusive environment for all.

If these statements do not reflect your values, living in residence is not for you.

Living In Residence - Health & Vaccinations

We all have a responsibility to protect the health and safety of our community by taking steps to minimize the potential spread of viruses, including COVID-19. Some individuals in our community may be more vulnerable to diseases because of underlying health conditions. COVID-19 is still a serious public health threat. You are expected to act in a respectful and considerate way towards those around you. When you take care of yourself, you take care of others. You should also be aware that some illnesses may spread more easily in a communal living environment and/or are more prevalent among student-aged populations.

In addition to COVID-19 and annual Influenza vaccinations, vaccinations for Meningitis and sexual-transmitted infections, such as HPV and Hepatitis A&B are strongly recommended. Plan for your arrival by speaking with your health care provider about your current health and what they recommend to best protect you while living in residence. The University strongly recommends that you stay up-to-date on all immunizations as recommended by Public Health Ontario (or similar agency in your home community). Please view the following for more information on the recommended Provincial immunizations schedule. For support and/or questions regarding immunizations, you can also contact Student Wellness Services.

You acknowledge that the University may, from time to time, impose rules, procedures and protocols as it deems necessary or as it may be required to do by public authorities to mitigate against the risk of the spread of diseases, like COVID-19 virus, and/or its transmission in Queen's Residences; these could include reduced residence capacity and the first-year guarantee, the closure of certain residence spaces, restrictions on guests, and the imposition of vaccination, masking, physical distancing, self-isolation and testing requirements that you will be required to comply with to remain in Residence. Measures could also include COVID-related restrictions in campus dining halls and retail food service operations, which would impact the delivery of meal plan services.

The University conducts wastewater surveillance from select residence buildings as part of University research activities to monitor evolving public health trends.

2.2 What To Do If You Are Feeling Sick

If you are feeling ill and/or suspect that you may have COVID-19, you must follow protocols and/or guidance provided by public health.

2.3 Obligation and Acknowledgement of Risk

You acknowledge that in March of 2020 the World Health Organization declared a global pandemic due to the virus that causes COVID-19 (“COVID-19” or “the COVID-19 virus”) this includes all identified variants of the virus.

You understand that the University must operate Queen’s Residences in accordance with all applicable laws, including the Occupational Health and Safety Act and its regulations. As such, by choosing to live in Queen’s Residences, you agree and acknowledge your contractual obligation to follow all University’s directions, protocols, requirements and rules in relation to COVID-19 (collectively, “COVID-19 Measures”), which may include the potential for isolation, relocation or removal from residence, COVID-19 testing, participation in contact-tracing, self-monitoring and reporting symptoms and/or illness.

COVID-19 Vaccination and Disclosure of Vaccination Status: You acknowledge that in 2021 the University implemented the COVID-19 Vaccination Policy and that effective May 1, 2022 the operation of this Policy, including the mandatory vaccination requirement, was suspended.

You also acknowledge that the University may, in its sole discretion, reinstate all or any part(s) of the COVID-19 Vaccination Policy, including the requirement to disclose your COVID-19 vaccination status and the requirement to be Fully Vaccinated to attend any in-person

University activity, which includes living in Residence.

Information related to your COVID-19 vaccination status, if required, will be collected, used, and stored in compliance with the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and applicable university policies. You acknowledge that the University currently strongly encourages you to be fully up to date with your COVID-19 vaccinations prior to your move-in date.

Accommodations to any mandatory vaccination requirement based on Human Rights Code protected grounds may be made.

Termination for Failure to Comply with COVID-19 and/or other Public Health Measures for Communicable Diseases:

You understand and agree that the University may revoke any offer of Residence, deny entry to Residence, and/or terminate this Contract immediately if the University reinstates the COVID-19 vaccination requirement or introduces other Public Health Measures, which may or may not be related to COVID-19 and, in the University’s opinion, you fail to comply with those Measures. If this Contract is terminated as a result, you will be removed from Queen’s Residence and the provisions of paragraph 3.3.5 shall apply. You may also be subject to additional processes under the Student Code of Conduct.

Acknowledgement of Risk:

You understand that COVID-19 is a highly contagious, dangerous, and potentially lethal disease. In addition, you understand that the residence environment may expose you to other illness such as, but not limited to Meningitis and Hepatitis. As such, you confirm that you are fully aware that living in Queen's Residences and receiving the services carries inherent risks, which cannot be eliminated. You understand that the extent of such risks is not fully known.

By choosing to live in Queen's Residences and receive its services, you voluntarily assume all risks and waive the right to make any claims against Queen's University, its officers, employees, agents, and others for any personal injury, sickness, or death resulting from COVID-19 or other communicable illness and/or diseases while living in or receiving services from Queen's Residences. This waiver applies to you, your heirs, executors, administrators, representatives, successors, and permitted assigns, and you acknowledge that you are giving up legal rights and remedies.

General Terms And Conditions

3.1 Binding Contract

3.1.1 This Contract shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

3.1.2 The University and you agree that if a provision of this Contract or part of a provision, becomes, or is determined to be, invalid, illegal or unenforceable, such provision or part of a provision shall be deemed amended to conform to applicable laws so as to be valid and enforceable or, if it cannot be amended without materially altering the intention, it shall be stricken and the remainder of this Contract shall remain in full force and effect.

3.1.3 Any notices required to be given by the University to you under this Contract shall be deemed validly given if delivered to your room or to your @queensu.ca email address.

3.1.4 The construction, renovation, or repair in residence, or in the vicinity of the residence, is necessary for the evolution of the campus and community and may cause noise and inconvenience for some or all residents. While the University will attempt to minimize disruptions, you understand and acknowledge that the University will not provide any fee adjustments or any other form of compensation to you for any disruption or inconvenience to you resulting from such work.

3.1.5 All students living in Residence are subject to the Contract and all applicable University policies, regulations, rules and protocols (the “Rules”). The Rules include, without limitation, the Queen’s University Student Code of Conduct, the Harassment and Discrimination Prevention and Response Policy, and the Policy on Sexual Violence Involving Queen’s University Students.

3.1.6 You understand and agree that the Rules, including those contained in this Contract, may be amended or updated from time to time in the University's sole discretion and that you are required to comply with all amended or updated Rules and this Contract as a condition of living in Residence.

3.1.7 No failure or delay on the part of the University to exercise any right or remedy under this Contract shall be construed or operate as a waiver of that right or remedy generally.

3.1.8 To the extent that the University is unable to fulfill, or is delayed or restricted in fulfilling its obligations under this Contract during a state of emergency or in the face of serious circumstances beyond the University's control (e.g., severe weather, fire, flood, labour disruption, illness outbreak, quarantine, pandemic or epidemic, civil disobedience or disturbances, Acts of God, failure of public utilities services, and/or lawful requirements of public authorities) that substantially interrupt normal Residence operations or require the closure of all or part of Queen's Residences, the University shall be relieved from the fulfillment of its obligations during that period, shall not be liable to you for any loss that may result from such circumstances, and shall not be deemed to be in breach of this Contract. The University shall not be responsible for compensation of any kind to you for inconvenience or discomfort experienced during such circumstances.

3.2 Move-In And Move-Out Dates / Campus Closures

3.2.1 Subject to Sections 3.3, 3.4 and 3.7, this Contract shall be for a period (the “Term”) beginning on your scheduled Move-In Day, and ending on your Move-Out Day, which is individually determined as follows:

- You are required to move out no later than 3 pm on the day after your last scheduled exam, and in any event, no later than 12 pm on April 26, 2024.
- Written permission for an extension beyond 3 pm on the day after your last exam or after April 26, 2024 may be granted by the Queen’s Residence Life and Services Office based on individual circumstances. An application for extension is required and may be denied based on conduct history.
- If you have no final exams, you must move out no later than 3 pm on the day following your last day of class, unless written permission is granted by the Queen’s Residence Life and Services Office for an extension.
- If you are a graduate or professional student and neither of the above circumstances apply to you, you must move out no later than 12 pm on April 26, 2024.

3.2.2 Failure to move out within the prescribed period as noted will result in additional fees and/or charges levied against your account.

3.2.3 You understand that failure to move in on your scheduled Move-In Day may result in the loss of the assigned Residence bed and could result in no Residence room availability at all for you, unless the Residence Life and Services Office has given you advance written approval for a late arrival. All requests for a late arrival must be submitted by you in writing to the Residence Life and Services Office at reshouse@queensu.ca.

3.2.4 During the December-January winter break, no food, custodial services, mail delivery or other residence services are provided. You may, however, occupy your room or an alternate room assigned by the University during this period, provided you have applied for and been granted written permission to do so by the Queen’s Residence Life and Services Office. Permission will be in the University’s sole discretion and subject to you paying any applicable additional fee(s).

3.3 Cancellation / Termination of Contract

3.3.1 Prior to the commencement of the “Term”, this Contract may be cancelled by you through written notification to the Residence Life and Services Office at reshouse@queensu.ca. You may be subject to charges (as indicated in Section 3.8).

3.3.2 After the commencement of the “Term”, whether or not you have taken occupancy, you cannot cancel this Contract. You may request cancellation if withdrawing from the University for academic or health reasons by following the process set out in the Residence Withdrawal Policy. You may be subject to administrative charges. Subject to paragraph 3.3.3 below, if you leave Residence without following all steps required in the Residence

Withdrawal Policy, you will be required to pay your Residence fees in full for the entire Term of this Contract.

3.3.3 Between Move-In and Move-Out, you may be granted permission to cancel the Contract if the University is able to identify another full-time Queen’s student not currently living in Residence to take over the Contract. The Residence Life and Services Office must approve the replacement before permission to cancel the Contract will be granted.

3.3.4 The University may terminate the Contract and provide written notice requiring you to vacate Queen’s Residences for breach of this Contract or for violation of the Rules.

3.3.5 If the University terminates this Contract for breach of its terms or for reasons related to your conduct, you shall remain responsible for payment of the full Residence fees for the Term of this Contract and shall not be entitled to any refund.

3.3.6 The University may terminate this Contract with written notice if the University determines, in its sole discretion, that it is prudent to do so for health and safety or public health reasons or to maintain the safety, security or wellbeing of the University community, or if it determines it is required to do so by law or government directive, including a directive or order from Ontario Public Health or local Public Health Unit.

3.4 Eligibility to Live In Residence

3.4.1 To be eligible to live in Residence, you must be enrolled at Queen's University in an undergraduate, graduate, or professional school program with in-person classes. If you are studying part-time, eligibility to live in Residence, will be subject to availability. You are required to be enrolled in at least three courses per term. If you drop to fewer than three courses in any term you must notify the Residence Life and Services Office and may be required to leave Residence. Failure to notify the Residence Life and Services Office will result in you being required to leave Residence.

3.4.2 If you choose to or are required to withdraw from the University for academic or health reasons, you will be required to leave Residence. Queen's Residences staff may verify your enrollment status at any time without express consent from you.

3.5 Re-Admission to Residence

3.5.1 Eligibility for re-admission to Queen's Residences is at the sole discretion of the University and is based on several factors, including availability, responsible behaviour, residence and your conduct history, and positive contributions to the quality of life in Residence.

3.5.2 If you accumulate 4 or more points under the Residence Conduct Process (See Section 4 below), you will be denied the opportunity to become a Student Leader in residence (Residence Don, Residence Society, Residence Programming Assistant etc.)

3.6 Room Assignments

3.6.1 This Contract is for a space in Residence and not for a particular room. You agree that the University may, in its sole discretion, change your room assignment upon giving you such advance notice as is reasonable in the circumstances giving rise to the change.

3.6.2 The University uses a self-selection process to implement individual room allocations. The University does not guarantee requests or availability of specific room types or particular buildings. The University reserves the right to assign you to a room, where necessary to ensure that it is appropriate to meet individual accommodation needs, or based on operational and/or health and safety requirements.

3.6.3 Residence rooms are intended for use only by the Student(s) assigned to the room by Queen's University Residences and may not be sublet. No dependents are permitted. You may not assign or transfer this Contract or your room to any other person, except with the written permission of the University in the circumstances described in Section 3.3.3.

3.6.4 No fewer and no more than the number of people assigned by the University shall occupy the room. If you are in a multi-occupancy unit and the contract of one or more roommates is terminated, you shall accept alternate roommate(s) as assigned by the University in its sole discretion. You must keep the unoccupied portion of the room in a condition that would allow a new roommate to move into the room on short notice. You must also display a welcoming attitude of respect, cooperation, and acceptance toward any resident who is newly assigned to your room.

3.6.5 You may request a room change after the first week of classes, however permission to change room occupancy is not guaranteed, and you shall make no such change without the prior written consent of the Residence Life and Services Office.

3.6.6 The University retains the right to assign you to a different room including in another building, if the University determines in its sole discretion that such re-assignment is prudent in the interests of health, safety, well-being of an occupant or occupants and/or the Residence community, discipline, maximization of resources or the administration of the Queen's Residence program. In the case of re-assignment, you will be required to pay the Residence fees (and meal plan if applicable) stipulated for the new accommodation. The University will endeavour to re-assign you to comparable and comparably priced accommodation, but cannot guarantee this.

3.6.7 Accommodations: Students with functional limitations associated with a disability that require consideration for accommodation, must submit the Queen's Residence Health Accommodation form, with their Residence application. Requests received after the application deadline will be considered but room availability may be limited, and the University may not be able to fulfill late accommodation requests.

3.6.8 Service Animals: Queen's is committed to the inclusion and accommodation of students with disabilities. This includes the presence of Service Animals within all aspects of University life, including living in Residence. Residence Life and Services will work directly with students who rely on Service Animals. Students seeking to bring Service animals into Residence must complete and submit the necessary documentation to Queen's Student Accessibility Services \(QSAS\). Once the approval is received from QSAS, you will need to complete the Service Animal Residence Contract and must follow the Service Animal Guidelines for Queen's University Residences and any specific procedures related to your Service Animal in Residence. You will be held accountable for the behaviour of your Service animal.

3.7 Pre-Arrival/ Check-In / Check-Out Requirements

3.7.1 You are required to complete specified online education/information modules prior to check-in. Details regarding these requirements will be shared via email by August 10, 2023. Failure to complete pre-arrival requirements may impact your ability to move in and/or may result in disciplinary sanctions

3.7.2 You are required to check-in at the beginning of the Contract Term by obtaining your physical/electronic keys and completing a Room Assessment Form. The Room Assessment Form is the basis for the assessment of any potential charges due to damage or loss. If no form is submitted within 1 week of the move-in date, the room shall be deemed to have been in acceptable condition and fully equipped with undamaged furniture and furnishings on the move-in date. If you change rooms, you must complete a new Room Assessment Form.

3.7.3 You are required to check-out as per the timing outlined in paragraph 3.2.1. Check-out includes returning physical/electronic keys and completing the Room Check-Out process as directed. Failure to return physical/electronic keys when checking out of Residence will result in a replacement charge on your SOLUS account.

3.7.4 Before moving out, all refuse and personal property must be removed, and the room must be left clean. All charges for additional cleaning required, for removal of personal property, and for any loss, damage or missing furnishings in the room will be billed to your account(s). Check-out fees will apply if you fail to follow the check-out process and will be billed to your account(s).

3.7.5 Belongings left behind upon Move-Out will be considered abandoned and will be disposed of by the University. The University accepts no responsibility for the storage or safekeeping of property abandoned in Residence rooms.

3.8 Fees And Charges

3.8.1 Residence fees include the room and the mandatory meal plan and are payable by specific dates as published by the University Registrar. Detailed fees and the associated payment schedule are outlined on our website.

3.8.2 Residence fees are based on the type of room occupied and not on specific amenities, such as square footage, accessibility to floor kitchens/ common rooms, furniture, etc.

3.8.3 Residence fees (including mandatory meal plan) may be refunded in limited circumstances as set out in Section 3.3.2, in accordance with the Residence Withdrawal Policy. You are not entitled to any refund to you unless you complete all requirements set out in the Residence Withdrawal Policy.

3.8.4 Non-payment of Residence fees are grounds for the University to require you to vacate Queen's Residences; however, you shall remain liable to the University for the full cost of your Residence fees.

3.8.5 Residence Applications will not be processed without the required deposit. Refer to the "Applying to Residence" section on our website with regard to due dates, deposits, refunds and other important information.

3.8.6 All fees and charges unpaid after the due date will automatically be subject to monthly service charges established by the University.

3.8.7 Additional fees may be imposed as a behavioural sanction. Any damage, clean-up, neglect or replacement charges resulting from any incident or situation where you are found to be responsible will result in restitution charges.

3.8.8 Additional fees may be levied against Community members if common area damage/vandalism occurs and the specific individual(s) responsible cannot be identified.

3.9 Meal Plans

Residence Meal Plans are included within fees and are mandatory for all students in Residence. If this Contract is terminated, you are no longer eligible for a Residence Meal Plan. At the sole discretion of the University, you may have the option to purchase an off-campus meal plan. A valid student identification card must be presented for all meals. This card is non-transferable.

“ [My favourite part of residence was] having so many friends all around you and just down the hall. It’s like living with your best friends, something I think every high schooler dreamed of.”

1ST YEAR RESIDENCE STUDENT, 2022

3.10 Room Entry, Inspection, and Repairs

3.10.1 University staff have the right to enter your room for the purpose of cleaning, maintenance, inspecting the facilities, responding to a health, safety or security concern, investigating a possible violation(s) of this Contract, the Rules or any law, and in the event of an emergency. Notice of such entry will be given in advance where possible, except in emergency situations or if staff have reasonable grounds to suspect that this Contract, the Rules or any law are being violated.

3.10.2 Submission of a Maintenance Request Order (MRO) constitutes permission to enter your room and to make the repair without further notice. You understand and agree that you shall not impede staff in the performance of their duties. In order to ensure that any repairs, replacements, etc. are attended to as promptly as possible, please complete a Maintenance Request Order \(MRO\) online.

3.10.3 If evidence of a violation of the Contract is found while entering or inspecting a residence room, it may be addressed through the Residence Conduct Process. We may use evidence obtained during the entrance and/or inspection during the Conduct Process.

3.11 Guests

3.11.1 A guest is any non-resident of your residence building. Anyone visiting you (whether signed in under your name or not) is considered to be your guest even if they live in a different Queen's residence building.

3.11.2 Your guests are expected to act in a responsible manner. Having guests is a privilege, not a right. You will be held accountable for misconduct of your guest(s), which can include sanctions from loss of your privilege to have guests, up to and including your removal from Residence.

- Guests are not permitted after 11:59 pm on a daily basis, between September 2nd – 17th, 2023.

- Guests are not permitted in Residence at any time during Queen's Homecoming specifically October 19th – 22nd, 2023.

- Guests are not permitted in Residence at any time during dates around St. Patrick's Day, specifically March 14th – 18th, 2024.

3.11.3 Residence Life and Services may restrict guest access throughout the academic year.

3.11.4 You must register your Guest(s) via the online Guest Registration Form in the Student Residence and Dining Portal and check them in with your building's front desk upon arrival.

3.11.5 You are responsible for informing your guest(s) about these expectations and requirements under this Contract. Any violation of the items outlined in Section 3.11, failure to cooperate with staff, or violation of the behavioural expectations outlined in this Contract or the Rules will result in guest(s) being escorted out of the building and they will be required to find alternate accommodations outside of Residence.

3.11.6 You are permitted a maximum of 2 guests at any one time.

3.11.7 You are subject to maximum occupancy limits in individual rooms and common spaces.

3.11.8 You are limited to hosting overnight guests for no more than 3 consecutive nights. Hosting overnight guests in shared accommodations requires consent from your roommate(s).

3.11.9 You are responsible for your guest(s)' behaviour during their visit and must accompany them at all times. For additional clarity, you remain accountable for the conduct of your guest(s), even if misconduct occurs at a time/place when you have failed to meet your obligation to accompany them at all times when in Residence.

3.12 Insurance / Lost Or Stolen Items/ Damages/Risk And Liability

3.12.1 The University assumes no liability, directly or indirectly, for loss or theft of personal property, including food, or for damage or destruction of such property by fire, water or other causes (e.g. loss of utilities).

3.12.2 You accept that you are required to carry, and undertake that you will obtain, appropriate and adequate personal property insurance coverage, as well as liability insurance coverage for fire, injury or damage caused by you. To provide the necessary insurance coverage, all Residence students have been enrolled in the Marsh Insurance program for Residence Students. If you have alternate insurance coverage in place, you can “opt-out” of the Marsh Insurance program by providing proof of that alternate insurance coverage. The opt-out date is September 30, 2023. If you do not opt-out by this date, you will be automatically enrolled in the Marsh Insurance program and applicable fees as posted to your SOLUS account will be due.

3.12.3 The University shall not be responsible for any injury, damage or loss suffered by you, and/or your guests while in or about Queen’s Residences, which is caused by the negligence of you or your guest(s) or that results from violation of the behavioural expectations outlined in this Contract or of the Rules. You will be held financially responsible for any damage, loss, or neglect occurring in your assigned room, or in any Queen’s Residences, as a result of you or your guest(s) acts or omissions.

3.12.4 Students in a multi-occupancy unit shall be jointly liable for all damage that is caused to their room(s) by any of them or any guest or other person permitted into the room.

3.12.5 You are expected to have concern for the protection and preservation of the residence building and its grounds. Individuals who are found to be responsible for damage will be held responsible for all repair and replacement costs. If Residence Life and Services is unable to determine who is specifically responsible for the damage, the damage costs may be levied evenly against all members of the impacted community (floor, building, area of the building etc.)

3.12.6 As part of Residence programming, you have the opportunity to participate in sponsored activities that may take them outside of the Residence environment.

3.12 Insurance / Lost Or Stolen Items/ Damages/Risk And Liability (continued)

3.12.7 In addition to the specific risks referenced in Section 2 above, by participating or being involved in any of the activities offered through Residence Life and Services (the “Activities”), whether on or off campus, you acknowledge, accept, and understand that you may be exposed to risks of loss including financial loss, severe injury, or death. You acknowledge the existence of known risks and potential unknown risks which may include, but are not limited to the following:

- Falls to the ground due to uneven or irregular terrain or surfaces, or activities performed at heights.
- Risks associated with travel to and from all venues of the various components including transport by public or private motor vehicle which could include but are not limited to an accident resulting in severe physical injuries or death.
- Injuries resulting from contact, collisions, or malfunctioning structures and equipment.
- Failure to properly use any piece of equipment or from the mechanical failure of any piece of equipment.
- Spinal cord injuries, including those that may result in permanent impairment or paralysis.
- Being struck by other participants, spectators, equipment, or vehicles.
- Vigorous physical exertion and strenuous cardiovascular activities associated with the Activities.
- Potential for bone and muscular skeletal injury, such as sprains and strains; episodes of light headedness, fainting, chest discomfort, leg cramps, and nausea.
- Potential for burns.
- Injury caused by failure to follow directions from those in charge of the Activities.
- Loss of personal property, including due to theft, or damage to personal property.

3.12

In general, I feel like my residence is very well taken care of and I feel safe in my room at all times.

1st year residence student, 2022

3.12 Insurance / Lost Or Stolen Items/ Damages/Risk And Liability (continued)

3.12.8 By entering this Contract, you certify that you are in good health and fit to undertake the Activities in which you choose to participate. You also certify that you are not aware of, or under treatment for, any condition that may jeopardize your health during such Activities. You acknowledge that you are solely responsible for determining your level of participation in the Activities. By participating in the Activities, you voluntarily assume all risks associated with the Activities and agree that you are solely responsible for the costs associated with any injury, loss, or medical emergency that may occur as the result of your participation in the Activities.

3.12.9 Having read and understood the terms of this Contract, and in particular without limitation the terms set out in Sections 2 and 3.12.6 – 3.12.8, and in consideration of Queen’s permitting your participation in the Activities, you agree to waive, and hereby release and forever discharge all claims you may have for every kind of damages, loss, injury, or expense (“Claims”) arising from your participation in the Activities as against Queen’s, its employees, and agents, and all of their successors, heirs and assigns (together, “Queen’s University”). Further, you agree to indemnify and save Queen’s University harmless from any Claim that may be brought by any third party arising from your participation in the Activities.

3.13 Internet Access

Residence fees include internet access provided by the University. All bedrooms are equipped with at least one ethernet port for connectivity. Depending on the building, you may need to install your own router for wireless services in your bedroom. More information is available on our website. You understand that there may be occasional interruptions in service.

You hereby agree that you will abide by the University's Acceptable Use of Information Technology Resources Policy. Queen's University ITS monitors all campus networks, including residences, for security purposes for malware, viruses, and suspicious activity. Failure to comply with ITS instructions to remediate identified risks may result in internet access being revoked.

You understand that Queen's University monitors ResNet for violations of the computing guidelines as outlined in the Acceptable Use of Information Technology Resources Policy. Failure to abide by the guidelines will result in administrative consequences, which may include disciplinary action up to and including removal from Residence.

3.14 Data Collection, Use, Disclosure, and Retention

Queen's Residence Life and Services collects certain personal information from you and is committed to protecting that information. Personal information is collected under the authority of the Queen's University Royal Charter of 1841, as amended, and will be used by the University for the following purposes:

- To assess your eligibility to live in Residence and access related services.
- To process Residence application forms and the allocation of bed space.
- To provide rooms based on health accommodations.
- To assess the efficiency of Residence operations and the provision of related services.
- To communicate with you, family, and others regarding Residence services, or in the event of an emergency.
- To address disciplinary, behavioural, or health issues that arise.
- To bill, collect, and account for provision of services.
- To preserve and protect the safety and security of you and the entire Residence community.
- To build and maintain relations with the University while enrolled as a student and beyond.

In the collection, use, disclosure, and retention of personal information, Queen's Residence Life and Services complies with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, the University Registrar's Student and Applicant Record Policy, and the Records Management Policy. Questions or comments regarding our Privacy Policy and practices are to be directed, first to:

Queen's Residences will not disclose personal information in its possession including information related to your health, wellness, or behaviour to persons external to the University except as it may be required to do by an Order or by law, including to parents/guardians or other identified contacts, without first obtaining consent from you. However, if there are compelling circumstances that would warrant reaching out to an emergency contact, either for individual or community safety/wellness or for compassionate reasons related to an illness or injury, Queen's Residences might disclose personal information without your consent, as permitted by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

3.14 Data Collection, Use, Disclosure, and Retention

Health Accommodation information is collected under the authority of the Queen's University Royal Charter, 1841, as amended, and will be used for Residence accommodation purposes. Any information provided for this purpose is kept strictly confidential and will not be shared with anyone except Queen's Residences, the Queen's Student Accessibility Services (QSAS), and Campus Security & Emergency Services in cases where a student has been identified as requiring help in an evacuation, or other Queen's personnel on a strictly need-to-know basis.

“ Living in residence, I most enjoyed the opportunity to connect with others and the convenience of living in close proximity to friends and classmates, yet at the same time, having a private room to spend time away from others when necessary.”

3.15 Safety & Security

3.15.1 Queen's is committed to keeping all residents and Queen's residence property secure. If you have any concerns about your personal or community safety, please report these concerns to your Don or to Campus Security. Dons are on call between 8pm and 7am daily and can be reached by calling your designated front desk.

Campus Security can be reached at 613-533-6111 (emergency) or 613-533-6733 (non-emergency).

You are also encouraged to download the SeQure app or visit the Campus Security and Emergency Services website.

3.15.2 The University has installed or may install video cameras throughout a residence's common areas to promote safety. This can include, but is not limited to, building lobbies, stairwells, hallways, common rooms, exit doors, retail locations, restricted areas and other areas of residence.

3.15.3 — KEYS AND LOCKOUTS

- Physical/electronic keys are the property of Queen's University. You are only permitted to be in possession of Residence physical/electronic keys if they have been issued to you by Queen's Residences.
- You are responsible for your physical/electronic keys.
- It is a violation of this Contract to make or cut any copy of your physical/electronic keys or to lend them to any other person.
- Your physical/electronic keys are a complete set. Do not tamper with or separate your key set.
- Any lost, stolen, or malfunctioning keys or locks must be reported to your respective front desk immediately.
- It is important to carry your physical/electronic keys with you and keep your residence room locked at all times.
- If you have locked yourself out of your room or lost your physical/electronic keys, please contact your front desk. If you need immediate assistance for entry, front desk staff will assist you. If you have a maintenance issue (e.g., sticky lock), the front desk can provide instructions about how to submit a Maintenance Request Order.
- Report malfunctioning locks or keys to your front desk.
- For your safety and the safety of your Residence community members, it is your responsibility not to allow individuals without keys into the residence behind you (ie. tailgating) and to report suspicious persons to your Don or Campus Security. Do not prop doors open – this compromises the security of the building for everyone.

3.15.4 — FIRE AND LIFE SAFETY EQUIPMENT AND REQUIREMENTS

You are required to immediately report any malfunctioning fire or life safety equipment to Residence Facilities or Front Desk. This includes but is not limited to: smoke detectors, fire extinguishers, window limiters and/or screens, and missing or damaged ceiling tiles required by Fire Code. Failure to report may result in a Community Standards Violation.

It is your responsibility to ensure that any personal electrical devices (e.g., hairdryers, chargers, fans) are CSA approved and in good working order (e.g., no frayed wires, etc.)

3.15.5 — COOKING

- You are not permitted to prepare food or drink in your Residence room or in hallways.
- Some Residence common spaces provide facilities for residents to cook. Every building has spaces where you can access a microwave, use a kettle, toaster, etc., typically in your floor lounge.
- You must not leave any food or drink you are preparing unattended - You will be held accountable for any related damage and fire alarms.
- It is your responsibility to check and ensure the cleanliness of any cooking appliance before and after use.

3.15.6 — EVACUATION PROCEDURES

- In the event of a fire alarm, please exit the building promptly using the nearest available exit. Do not use elevators during an alarm as they can be unsafe.
- It is crucial to evacuate the building as failure to do so puts the lives of other residents, staff, and emergency services personnel at risk.
- Failure to evacuate in a timely and orderly manner is considered a serious conduct violation.
- The University is not responsible for the safety of those who ignore a fire alarm.
- Be aware of residents who may require assistance in evacuating the building. Please notify a Residence Staff member or emergency personnel of their location.
- If you have an accessibility requirement (e.g. difficulty waking up) that hampers your ability to evacuate immediately when an alarm sounds, please notify Residence Life and Services (reshouse@queensu.ca) and your Don when you move in order to make arrangements to prepare a safety evacuation plan.

3.15.7 PROHIBITED ITEMS

3.15.7.1 There are some items that are restricted in residence because of the potential hazard to the health and safety of the community and/or the overall wellbeing of the community. Residence Life and Services has the right to inspect, remove, or request the removal of any prohibited item. See section 4.10.12 for further details.

3.15.7.2 Prohibited items which have been surrendered to Residence Life and Services staff will be kept for a period of 30 days. After this period, any unclaimed property will be sent to a local charity or discarded. Queen's Residences are not responsible for any lost or damaged property that is surrendered to Residence Life and Services staff.

3.15.7.3 If you would like to schedule an appointment to discuss the return of an item, please contact residence.conduct@queensu.ca. We require at least 24-hours notice.

3.15.7.4 Possession and use of items for religious purposes such as candles or kirpans must be approved by Residence Life and Services. For information regarding Smudge Ceremonies please see the Indigenous Use of Traditional Medicines policy. Accommodation requests for these items and activities must be submitted to reslife@queensu.ca.

3.16 Mail & Packages

3.16.1 Mail and packages are delivered to your designated front desk or parcel depot. Visit our website for more information about where you can pick up your parcels. We do not accept items or packages at the desk that require proof of age upon pick up, such as alcohol or cannabis products. Desk staff or other parties cannot sign for these on your behalf. If a package requiring proof of legal age upon pick up is delivered to a residence, it will be returned to the sender. When ordering packages that require proof of age upon pickup, you must make alternative delivery or pick up arrangements.

Residence Conduct Process

4.1 Introduction

Residents who violate this Contract or the Rules will be held accountable. If you choose to be a part of a group that is doing so, you may collectively and individually be held responsible for the violation.

The Residence Conduct Process is an administrative process. The Residence Conduct Office (RCO) is an administrative unit within the University's Non-Academic Misconduct System. Alleged misconduct is investigated and decisions are based on the aggregated perspectives of persons involved in an incident and the fact-finding process led by the assigned investigator. Decisions represent the investigator's assessment of the behaviour or sequence of events. Findings are made based on the "balance of probabilities", which means whether it is more likely than not that the alleged misconduct occurred.

You have a right to privacy within this process to the extent feasible. You have a right to request the documentation pertaining to the incident. Failure to attend a scheduled meeting to investigate misconduct will result in a decision being made without your input. If you have questions about an outcome, contact the RCO at residence.conduct@queensu.ca. The Residence Conduct process does not preclude intervention by Residence Life and Services staff in instances of potential serious harm or injury, community impact, patterns of alcohol or substance misuse, and/or concerns regarding mental health or wellbeing.

Behaviour that violates this Contract may result in interim or immediate measures/restrictions being put into effect pending a meeting with Residence Conduct staff or other adjudicating body. If you are found responsible for a residence conduct violation, particularly behaviours that put the health and safety of our community at risk, sanctions could include (but are not limited to):

- Educational sanctions
- Behavioural agreement
- Restitution
- Loss of privileges
- Residence Probation
- Removal from Residence
- Other sanctions as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct

Residence Life and Services is responsible for balancing the needs of the community with those of the individual. You are required to uphold and demonstrate a high standard of respect for all members of the community, including Residence and University staff members.

Your Responsibilities

You are responsible for reading and familiarizing yourself with this Contract and the Rules. The Rules are in place to ensure the privacy, health, safety, and security of students living in Residence, and for the protection of University property. Ignorance of these, use of substances, peer pressure, and/or mitigating factors will not be accepted as excuses for inappropriate behaviour.

It is your responsibility to tell the truth about what you know and take responsibility what you have done. Falsifying or suppressing facts will lead to additional sanctions. You are obligated to cooperate with the investigation of incidents.

You are responsible for reporting to Residence Life and Services Staff any incidents of misconduct where there may be a risk of harm, a possible violation of the Rules, or a negative impact on the dignity of any other resident.

You are responsible for checking your Queen's email frequently, responding to all meeting requests, attending scheduled meetings and conduct proceedings, and completing any assigned sanctions.

Your participation in the Residence community requires that you demonstrate fairness to, and respect for, the dignity for others.

You are responsible for keeping the living environment clean and safe, and to report anything or anyone that threatens or compromises this.

You are responsible for the content you post/share on social media. We expect all students to be conscientious about the content they post/share on social media and the consequences of such content, whether intended or not. You may be held responsible for content you post/share on any social media platform.

Your Rights

You have the right to be heard when voicing a concern.

You and all those with whom you live in the residence setting have the right to a safe, secure, and inclusive Residence community that is free from harassment, intimidation, discrimination, and one that is respectful of the need for a quiet environment in which to study and have adequate sleep.

You have the right to live peacefully in Residence regardless of your race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or disability.

4.2 Communication and Notice

All notices and written communication pursuant to the Residence Conduct process and the Student Code of Conduct will be sent by email to you using your @queensu.ca email account. Correspondence will be deemed to have been received and read two (2) business days after delivery. The delivery date is defined by the date on the email message header. It is your responsibility to monitor your @queensu.ca email account. Failure to do so will not be an excuse or grounds for appeal if findings are made or sanctions imposed and you failed to attend a scheduled meeting or failed to respond to a communication, related to the Residence Conduct process.

4.3 Interim & Immediate Measures

Residence Life and Services or the Student Conduct Office may implement interim and/or immediate measures that are appropriate in the circumstances to support a safe Residence environment, for a specific period or until the case is concluded (e.g. room relocations, full or partial Notice of Prohibition, no contact requirements, or other restriction(s) on or loss of privileges). Interim and/or immediate measures are not evidence of any finding of fact concerning whether or not there has been a residence conduct violation. Interim and/or immediate measures cannot be appealed.

4.4 Procedures

All incidents are documented by University staff and this documentation may be submitted to the Residence Conduct Office for review and classification. Cases will be assessed based on severity of conduct and its impact on yourself and/or other students and/or the Residence environment and/or Queen's University. Various members of the conduct team may review cases depending on your current point level and the severity of the alleged behaviour as outlined below. Investigators assigned may vary depending on unique situations or availability of staff and may include staff from the Student Conduct Office when a matter is referred to it by the Non-Academic Misconduct Intake Office \(NAMIO\).

Residence Life Coordinator (RLC) investigates when:
Student currently has 0-2 points or the documented violation could result in 1-2 points.

Residence Conduct Coordinator (RCC) or Residence Support Coordinator (RSC) investigates when:
Student currently has 2-3 points or the documented violation could result in 2-3 points.

Manager, Residence Conduct (MRC) or their designate investigates when:
Student currently has 2-3 points and the documented violation could result in 3-4 points.

Student Conduct Office Case Manager or their designate investigates when:
Documented violation is presumptively Category 2 under the Student Code of Conduct.

4.5 Points

A cumulative 4 point system is used in the Residence Conduct Process to ensure consistency in decision making and that you are informed about and understand how your conduct choices may result in termination of your Residence Contract and/or specific privileges while living in Residence. Points constitute a warning system that uses numbers between 1-4 to help you know how close you may be to being required to leave Residence should you choose to conduct yourself in a manner that contravenes this Residence Contract.

The investigator is responsible for deciding the point(s) assigned for a finding of misconduct. For additional details on the potential point ranges that may be assigned, please review the Residence Community Standards Violations Guide. The number of points assigned depends on the type of incident, its seriousness and potential impact on yourself and/or others in the community.

- If found responsible for a Residence Conduct violation you may be warned or assigned one or more points.
- If you receive or accumulate 3 points you will automatically be placed on Residence Probation as an indication that you are at significant risk of being removed from Residence for ANY subsequent violation(s).
- When 4 or more points are received or accumulated, the Residence Contract may be terminated, resulting in eviction from Residence. Persistent disregard for the behavioural expectations outlined in your Residence Contract, a repetitive course of improper conduct, or failure to comply with prior conditions may trigger progressive discipline, including termination of your Residence Contract. The University reserves the right to terminate your Residence Contract and remove you from residence for a single violation which, in the view of the University, represents a significant departure from the behaviour expected of residents or which endangers the safety or wellbeing of the community.

Points remain active until the end of the academic year during which they were assigned, or such other date as may be stipulated in the conduct decision letter. In addition to the assignment of points, other sanctions or learning opportunities may also be required and form part of a conduct decision.

4.6 The Queen's Student Code of Conduct

As a Queen's student, you are expected to adhere to and promote the University's core values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and personal responsibility in all aspects of University life. These core values are intended to inform and guide student behaviour with the goal of fostering mutual respect for the dignity, rights, and well-being of others and their property.

In becoming a member of the Queen's community, you accept the University's policies, rules and procedures, and acknowledge the right of the University to set standards of conduct, as well as the right of the University and/or its Authorized Agent(s) to impose sanctions for conduct found to have violated those standards.

You have a duty to familiarize yourself with academic and non-academic misconduct policies of the University and are required to adhere to the Queen's University Student Code of Conduct. Activities in Residence, particularly those of a serious nature, may be subject to referral to NAMIO and to investigation under the Student Code of Conduct.

Procedures under the Code may be undertaken before, at the same time as, or after, civil, criminal or employment-related proceedings; but, if a report of misconduct has also resulted in civil, criminal, or employment-related proceedings against a student, the Vice-Provost and Dean of Student Affairs (or delegate) will determine whether the process should be deferred until conclusion, or partial conclusion, of such other proceedings.

Reporting Units receive complaints and determine when a matter needs to be forwarded to the Non-Academic Misconduct Intake Office (NAMIO). NAMIO considers the nature of the matter, the status of students involved, the impact, and the appropriate University policy for resolution before referring to a NAM Unit for case management. Reporting Units include: Athletics & Recreation; Campus Security & Emergency Services; Residence; Sexual Violence Prevention & Response Office and the University Secretary (for Complaints and Reports related to Harassment, Discrimination and/or Reprisal).

4.7 Non-Academic Misconduct Intake Office

Cases that are presumptively Category 2 violations under the Student Code of Conduct are submitted to the Non-Academic Misconduct Intake Office (NAMIO) for assessment and referral based on factors as outlined in the Student Code Of Conduct. Cases submitted to NAMIO may be referred for investigation to the Residence Conduct Office, the Student Conduct Office, the Athletics & Recreation Conduct Office, and/or the AMS Judicial Affairs Office.

4.8 Appeals

4.8.1 Residence Conduct Decisions (in cases resulting in a total accumulation of 3 or fewer assigned points).

You must complete and submit an appeal form within five (5) business days of the date on their decision letter. Failure to file an appeal within the 5 business day period, your right to appeal is forfeited unless a written request for an extension of time is submitted before the initial deadline expires, providing a satisfactory reason for the delay, and the request is granted. Appeal forms can be accessed via Residence Conduct.

Appeal submissions will be reviewed and you will be notified if it is incomplete or otherwise deficient. You must rectify the issue within three (3) business days from the date of the notice and re-submit your appeal, failing which the appeal will not be accepted.

If accepted, the appeal will be heard by the Residence Conduct Board (RCB). The Board will hear statements from all parties, review investigation information, and may uphold, overturn, or change findings of responsibility and/or sanctions.

The Residence Conduct Board (RCB) will hear appeals of Residence Conduct decisions that resulted in 3 or fewer assigned points. The primary concern for the RCB is to ensure that Residence Conduct decisions were made in accordance with the requirements of procedural fairness. Accordingly, an appeal will be granted where one or more of the following is established:

1. The decision-maker was biased or had a conflict of interest that prejudiced the student.
2. The decision-making body misapplied and/or failed to follow applicable rules, regulations, or university policy in a way that impeded the student's right to a fair process.
3. The decision was unreasonable. A "reasonable" decision is one that is cogent and rational based on the factual record and logical interpretations of rules, regulations, or university policy relevant to the decision. To be reasonable, the decision-maker must provide adequate reasons for the conclusions made. A decision should be upheld if it falls within a range of possible and acceptable outcomes or sanctions.
4. The decision-maker whose decision is being appealed acted without authority or exceeded their jurisdiction.

Mere disagreement with a decision or dissatisfaction with the outcome is not grounds for an appeal. Further, a decision made without your input because you missed a scheduled meeting or otherwise failed to participate in the conduct process is not grounds for an appeal. Your failure to abide by the requirements in a decision letter can result in further sanctions and failure to read or understand the terms of the decision letter will not excuse you from such further sanctions, nor will it be grounds for appeal of any such further sanctions.

4.8.2 Student Conduct Office Decisions and/or Evictions.

You may appeal decisions made by the Student Conduct Office and/or eviction to the Non-Academic Misconduct Appeal Panel, under the applicable procedures. Appeals of decisions that do not result in eviction must be submitted within 10 business days of the date on the original decision letter. When misconduct results in eviction from Residence, Appeal requests are heard on an expedited basis and must be submitted within 3 business days of the date on the original decision letter. More information on this appeal process can be found on the NAM Appeal Panel website.

“ I really liked the closeness of the community [in residence] and I was able to find individuals that are in my programs or have the same courses that I am currently studying for.”

1ST YEAR RESIDENCE STUDENT, 2022

4.9 Residence Conduct Sanctions

Residence Conduct Sanctions are designed to educate you on the consequences and impact of inappropriate behaviour in residence. Listed below are examples of sanctions that may be used independently, or in combination, for any single incident. Sanctions are not applied sequentially in the order they appear below and not all sanctions may be applicable to specific situations. The impact and severity, context and timing of the incident as well as your conduct history and other mitigating or aggravating factors are considered in determining appropriate sanctions. Investigators may apply any range of the following sanctions and others may be assigned at the discretion of a Residence Life Coordinator, the Residence Conduct Office, or their designate.

(WW) WRITTEN WARNING – A formal letter of caution outlining the details of the finding of responsibility and a written agreement that the behaviour will not continue. The letter will be kept on file and referred to if a future incident occurs.

(EA) EDUCATIONAL ASSIGNMENT – A requirement to complete specific educational activities that allow you the opportunity to reflect on the finding of responsibility and the impact your conduct had on the community and yourself. This may include a project, written assignment, participation in an educational program, or a meeting with a University or public official. Educational assignments are not in any way academic penalties, and do not affect your academic record.

(LP) LOSS OF PRIVILEGES – A temporary or permanent loss of Residence privileges including but not limited to: hosting guests, restricted or no access to specific Residence spaces such as a specific building(s), dining hall(s), retail outlet(s), etc.

(RT) RESTITUTION – Reimbursement of any damage, clean-up, neglect or replacement costs resulting from your misconduct. This includes any costs resulting from misconduct of your guest(s). Restitution may be imposed against residence community members if damage/vandalism occurs in a common area and the specific individual(s) responsible cannot be identified.

(BA) BEHAVIOURAL AGREEMENT – A formal document that requires you to meet specific behavioural standards. This includes, but is not limited to: access restrictions, loss of guest and other privileges, regular meetings with a professional staff member, etc.

(RL) RELOCATION – A permanent move from an assigned room in one Residence building to another. A Notice of Prohibition (NOP) that prohibits all access to the original Residence of occupation may also accompany the relocation. You are responsible for any additional fee increase resulting from a room or building change and are responsible for transporting all of your belongings to your new room or building. Any further violations may result in suspension or removal from Residence.

(NC) NO CONTACT – A requirement that you have no direct or indirect contact (including but not limited to in-person, phone, text, email, social media, or through a third party, etc.) with a specified individual, individuals, or group.

(ED) EARLY DISMISSAL – Early dismissal requires you to move out by a designated deadline which will be shorter than a 24-period following your last exam.

(SP) SUSPENSION FROM RESIDENCE –

A suspension from being permitted to live in Residence for a specific duration. A Notice of Prohibition (NOP) that limits or prohibits access to some or all Residence buildings for a specified time period may also accompany the suspension notice.

(RP) RESIDENCE PROBATION – When you receive 3 points you will automatically be placed on Residence Probation as you are at significant risk of being evicted from residence. You are required to enter into a Behavioural Agreement for the remainder of the academic year and meet with a member of the Residence Conduct team on a regular basis, as a proactive accountability measure.

(RM) REMOVAL FROM RESIDENCE – Eviction from Residence. A Notice of Prohibition (NOP) that limits or prohibits access to some or all Residence buildings may also accompany the eviction notice.

Should anyone require accommodations throughout the conduct process or in the completion of sanctions, please contact the Residence Conduct Office at residence.conduct@queensu.ca or 613-533-2965. You may be asked to provide supporting documentation.

4.10 Residence Community Standards Violations

You are responsible for familiarizing yourselves with the terms of this Contract, and are contractually required to ensure you do not engage in any of the conduct described below. You are also responsible for the conduct of your guests and familiarizing them with the prohibited conduct described below; you will be held responsible for misconduct of your guests.

For additional details on the potential point ranges that may be assigned under any category below, please review the Residence Community Standards Violations Guide. Violations in residence may also be subject to the Student Code Of Conduct.

4.10.1 FAILURE TO COOPERATE:

- a. Failure to comply with instructions, identifications, requests, and/or Agreements of/ with any staff member of Queen's Residence Life and Services, Queen's First Aid, Campus Security and Emergency Services and/or Kingston Emergency Services or any other University or public official in and around residence.
- b. Failure to complete any sanction or outcome assigned within the Residence Conduct process.

4.10.2 HINDERANCE / INAPPROPRIATE BEHAVIOUR:

- a. Inappropriate or disruptive conduct (e.g., oral, written, graphic, electronic or physical) by an individual or individuals that is unacceptable, unwanted, harmful or offensive and may have a negative impact on the Residence community and an individual's ability to peacefully enjoy Residence. Actions that hinder the work of University staff including but not limited to: sports or potentially impactful activities in residences and dining halls, soliciting door-to-door or operating a business in Residence.

4.10.3 ALCOHOL:

Queen's is committed to fostering a campus culture that endorses healthy, responsible and low-risk alcohol consumption practices among students. All sanctioned Orientation activities are substance free; this also means no alcohol is allowed in Residence during this time. If you are under the age of 19 and are in possession of alcohol at any time, you will be required to dispose of it under the supervision of the Residence Don. Significant amounts of alcohol will be dealt with by Campus Security & Emergency Services.

- a. Causing a disturbance and/or inappropriate behaviour due to alcohol consumption.
- b. Possession and/or consumption of alcohol in or around Residence while under the age of 19.

HERE YOU WILL FIND SOME KEY RESOURCES AND TERMS USED IN THIS CONTRACT, ALONG WITH CONTACT INFORMATION.

RESIDENCE DON

Dons are hired and trained by Residence Life and Services to support you and create a safe and engaged community. They are trained in peer counselling, conflict mediation, community development, leadership, and much more. They are knowledgeable about campus resources and can refer you to the best place to get additional support. Dons on call are available between 8pm and 7am daily.

RESIDENCE LIFE COORDINATORS (RLC)

Residence Life Coordinators are full-time professional live-in staff responsible for establishing a cohesive and vibrant Residence community. They support and develop your residence community through educational programming, team development, critical response, and student conduct. RLCs are available to discuss any questions regarding the community and address your concerns.

RESIDENCE CONDUCT OFFICE

The Residence Conduct Office provides training, support, and education to members of the Residence community. The Conduct team is responsible for ensuring the effective operation of the Residence Conduct process and provides advice to students regarding the Residence Community Standards. Questions or concerns about the Residence Conduct process, should be directed to the Manager, Residence Conduct at residence.conduct@queensu.ca, 613-533-2965 or visit the office in 110C Victoria Hall.

RESIDENCE MENTAL HEALTH THERAPISTS

Mental Health Therapists in Residence are available for students wanting a safe, confidential space to chat and problem solve about a variety of issues, ranging from relationships to mental health concerns. To book an appointment call Student Wellness Services at 613-533-2506 and ask to see a Mental Health Therapist in Residence. You may also visit Student Wellness Services in Mitchell Hall.

FRONT DESK SERVICES

Life in Residence happens 24/7. The Front Desk Services team is here to help you regardless of the time of day! They can help with troubleshooting facilities and maintenance issues (laundry and laundry cards, lockouts, lost keys) and access to security, emergency services or other student life referrals (i.e. Residence Life On-call personnel). They also process and distribute all mail and parcels sent to you. If your question or concern is not related to living in residence, we will do our best to refer or connect you to the appropriate campus resource or department.

RESIDENCE FACILITIES CONTROL CENTRE

Have you got a wardrobe door that sticks? A window that won't open? If something in your room or your common area is broken and needs repair, you can submit a Maintenance Request Order (MRO) to our Facilities Control Centre (FCC) online through the Student Residence & Dining Portal. We assist students and staff with all maintenance, cleaning, access control and facilities reporting. We work closely with all departments in Residence to ensure a safe living environment. The FCC team is here to help you! Connect with us during our operating times noted above or via your Residence Front Desk team 24/7.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT IN RESIDENCE

The Residence Society (ResSoc) is the student government that works closely with Residence Life and Services to enhance the living environment and general welfare of all residents. The Residence Society advocates on behalf of student interests. ResSoc employs students in a variety of roles, including planning some building-specific social programming, supporting students engaged in the Residence Conduct process and contributing ideas and suggestions for the overall operation of Residence. If you have concerns or suggestions, ResSoc would like to hear from all residents. ResSoc is located in Victoria Hall, room C106, phone 613-533-6216 or email president@ressoc.queensu.ca.

OFFICE OF THE UNIVERSITY OMBUDSPERSON

The Office of the University Ombudsperson is a resource for the Queen's community in understanding university policies and procedures. The Office provides impartial and confidential advice and/or referral but cannot act as an advocate and has no decision-making authority. Rather, the Office assists community members through awareness of their rights and responsibilities and helps ensure procedural fairness in university decision-making. The Office of the University Ombudsperson can be contacted through their website at <https://www.queensu.ca/ombuds/>.

STUDENT WELLNESS SERVICES

Student Wellness Services supports the personal, academic, and social development of students at Queen's University by providing a range of programs and services including: health services, counselling services, accessibility services, and health promotion.

For additional information please call 613-533-2506 or email wellness.services@queensu.ca.
