

Did You Know that the Centre for Teaching and Learning...

Did you know that the Centre for Teaching and Learning (CTL) provides programming, resources and support for graduate students' and post-docs' development as educators? We help strategize about topics such as:

- Instructional strategies
- Marking and feedback
- Educational technology
- TA development
- Indigenizing the curriculum
- Learning Outcomes
- Rubrics
- Teaching dossiers
- Assessment strategies
- Educational research

HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDE...

Teaching Development Day

Every September before classes, the CTL offers a free day-long conference as a unique opportunity for anyone who teaches at Queen's to meet and learn about new and interesting developments in teaching and learning. Lunch and breaks provided.

Professional Development in University Teaching and Learning Certificate (PUTL)

Educators can engage in reflective and active practice for improving teaching and learning. As part of your professional development, you may be interested in submitting work for a certificate. Components include:

- Foundations of Teaching and Learning
- Practical Experience
- Accessible Teaching and Learning
- Scholarship of Teaching and Learning
- Educational Leadership

Educational Development Associate Program

Each year the Centre hires up to three graduate students to work closely with an Educational Developer in the internship-like opportunity to design and deliver programming to support TAs', graduate students' and post-doctoral fellows' ongoing professional development as educators.

SGS 901 Teaching and Learning in Higher Education

This course is intended for graduate students and post-doctoral fellows across the disciplines who want to develop as skilled, thoughtful, and confident post-secondary teachers. The goal of the course is to challenge and broaden conceptions of learning and approaches to teaching.

TA Advisory Committee

This unique leadership and volunteer opportunity helps shape Graduate Student TA education at Queen's. Our student-led TA Advisory Committee will provide collaborative space for keen individuals from across the disciplines who are currently, or have recently, worked as TAs or head TAs.
