

TEACHING FELLOW POSITION AVAILABLE – Fall 2024
Sociology 226 – Central Concepts in Sociological Theory
Department of Sociology
Queen’s University, Kingston, ON CAN K7L 3N6

The Department of Sociology at Queen’s University invites applications from suitably qualified graduate students at Queen’s University interested in teaching SOCY 226 – Central Concepts in Sociological Theory. This is an on-campus lecture course with an expected enrolment of around 200 undergraduate students. This is a Fall term appointment for the period September 1, 2024 to December 31, 2024 with classes in session from September 3, 2024 – December 3, 2024.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen’s University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University has policies in place to support its employees with disabilities, including an Accommodation in the Workplace Policy and a policy on the provision of job accommodations that take into account an employee’s accessibility needs due to disability. The University will provide support in its recruitment accessibility needs.

Teaching Fellows at Queen’s University are governed by the Collective Agreement for Teaching Assistants and Teaching Fellows between PSAC Local 901 and Queen’s University. Remuneration will be in accordance with the Collective Agreement, and appointments are subject to funding or enrollment criteria.
