Sociology 475
ADVANCED STUDIES IN DEVIANCE AND SOCIAL CONTROL
Fall 2019

Professor: Dr. Stephen Baron
Office: D-417 Mackintosh-Corry Building
Phone: 533-2170
Office Hours: Mondays 1:00 to 2:00; Tuesdays 1:00 to 2:00

Course Description

Sociology 475 is a seminar examining the sociological study of the etiology of crime and deviance. In the course students will critically exam the theory and empirical research that has developed in sociology and criminology.

Course Requirements

Students will be expected to take turns leading the seminar by presenting the required material to the class for discussion. Each student will be expected to lead the seminar twice during the semester. In these presentations students will be expected to provide a summary of the readings and lead the class in discussion on the topic being covered. While communication style is important, the focus of the grading will be on the substance (organization, coverage of issues, understanding of material, questions produced, discussion generated) of the presentation rather than the style. Students not presenting material will be expected to have read the material in advance and participate in the discussion. Participation means more than mere presence. Evaluation of participation will be based on contribution to class discussions, debates, and student presentations. Each seminar presentation will be worth 25% of the student's grade and class participation will represent another 15%. Students will also be expected to submit a term paper on November 25th IN CLASS worth 35% of their grade. A DEADLINE IS A DEADLINE. In terms of the assignment there should be no late assignments, nor need for extensions. Ten percent per day, including weekends, will be deducted each day, or part thereof, essays are overdue. Any and all delays regarding completing course assignments must be reported immediately to the professor. Approved excuses will permit a waiver of late penalties. An extension of the essay deadline will be allowed ONLY in the instances of documented medical problems or other documented emergencies. Students will have considerable freedom in their choice of research topic. The research must relate to an aspect of deviance, approached from a sociological perspective, and integrate only theories from the course. Details of the paper will be provided later in the semester.
All components of this course will receive numerical percentage marks. The final grade you receive for the course will be derived by converting your numerical course average to a letter grade according to Queen’s Official Grade Conversion Scale:

Statement on Academic Integrity

Queen’s students, faculty, administrators and staff all have responsibilities for upholding the fundamental values of academic integrity; honesty, trust, fairness, respect, responsibility and courage (see www.academicintegrity.org). These values are central to the building, nurturing and sustaining of an academic community in which all members of the community will thrive. Adherence to the values expressed through academic integrity forms a foundation for the "freedom of inquiry and exchange of ideas" essential to the intellectual life of the University (see the Senate Report on Principles and Priorities [http://www.queensu.ca/secretariat/policies/senate/report-principles-and-priorities]).

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the regulations concerning academic integrity and for ensuring that their assignments and their behaviour conform to the principles of academic integrity. Information on academic integrity is available in the Arts and Science Calendar (see Academic Regulation 1 [http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/academic-calendars/regulations/academic-regulations/regulation-1]), on the Arts and Science website (see https://www.queensu.ca/artsci/students-at-queens/academic-integrity), and from the instructor of this course. Departures from academic integrity include plagiarism, use of unauthorized materials, facilitation, forgery and falsification, and are antithetical to the development of an academic community at Queen's. Given the seriousness of these matters, actions which contravene the regulation on academic integrity carry sanctions that can range from a warning or the loss of grades on an assignment to the failure of a course to a requirement to withdraw from the university.

- Please note that we have had issues in the past with unintended plagiarism in this course. Regardless of how and where you retrieve information, the principles of academic integrity apply. Accommodations for Disabilities

Queen's University is committed to achieving full accessibility for people with disabilities. Part of this commitment includes arranging academic accommodations for students with disabilities to ensure they have an equitable opportunity to participate in all of their academic activities. The Senate Policy for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities was approved at Senate in November 2016 (see https://www.queensu.ca/secretariat/sites/webpublish.queensu.ca.uslcwww/files/files/policies/senateandtrustees/ACADACCOMMPOLICY2016.pdf). If you are a student with a disability and think you may need academic accommodations, you are strongly encouraged to contact the Queen's Student Accessibility Services (QSAS) and register as early as possible. For more information, including important deadlines, please visit the QSAS website at: http://www.queensu.ca/studentwellness/accessibility-services/

Academic Consideration for Students with Extenuating Circumstances

Queen’s University is committed to providing academic consideration to students experiencing extenuating circumstances that are beyond their control and are interfering with their ability to complete academic requirements related to a course for a short period of time. The Senate Policy on Academic Consideration for Students in Extenuating Circumstances is available at http://www.queensu.ca/secretariat/sites/webpublish.queensu.ca.uslcwww/files/files/policies/senateandtrustees/Academic%20Considerations%20for%20Extenuating%20Circumstances%20Policy%20Final.pdf
Each Faculty has developed a protocol to provide a consistent and equitable approach in dealing with requests for academic consideration for students facing extenuating circumstances. Arts and Science undergraduate students can find the Faculty of Arts and Science protocol and the portal where a request can be submitted at: http://www.queensu.ca/artsci/accommodations. Students in other Faculties and Schools who are enrolled in this course should refer to the protocol for their home Faculty.

If you need to request academic consideration for this course, you will be required to provide the name and email address of the instructor/coordinator. Please use the following:

Instructor/Coordinator Name: Dr. Stephen W. Baron
Instructor/Coordinator email address: barons@queensu.ca

Classroom Protocol

1. All class participants are expected to refrain from the use of electronic devices (e.g. cell phones, internet use, text messaging, iPods) during lectures.

2. The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy legislation disallows the public distribution of assignments (e.g. leaving assignments outside the professor’s office), and the general posting of grades. All assignments will be picked up by individual students during class or during the professor’s office hours.
