The Department of Sociology at Queen's University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching a course in Gender, Law & Crime (Sociology 389/3.0). This is an on-campus course with an expected enrolment of approximately 100 students. This is a winter term appointment for the period January 1, 2020 to April 30, 2020.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply.

Graduate Teaching Assistant and Teaching Fellows at Queen's University are governed by the Collective Agreement for Teaching Assistants and Teaching Fellows between PSAC Local 901 and Queen's University, which is posted at http://psac901.files.wordpress.com/2011/08/901-collective-agreement.pdf. Remuneration will be in accordance with the Collective Agreement.

Applicants should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, and a short note or email from at least one referee, normally their supervisor, as well as any other relevant materials that the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a teaching dossier or student evaluations, etc. Please arrange to have applications and supporting documentation sent directly to:

Annette Burfoot, Head
Department of Sociology
Queen's University
Kingston, Ontario Canada K7L 3N6

Applications will be received until March 25, 2019. Review of applications will commence shortly thereafter, and the final appointment is subject to budgetary approval. Additional information about the Department of Sociology can be found at: http://www.queensu.ca/sociology/index.html.