

Anne Fawcett

Anne Fawcett is seasoned human resource and executive recruitment leader who served as Vice Chair and Senior Advisor for one of Canada's leading executive recruitment firm.

Her work encompassed both the private sector, publicly traded corporations, domestic and international, governments, crown corporations and NGO's who all benefit from her ability to spot and attract talent. Her present work includes volunteering in support of community and academic organizations that are involved in community resilience and advanced education.

She has published numerous articles in trade and general business media, and often speaks publicly on such subjects as the war for talent, board governance, leadership, and volunteerism.

(APRIL 2020)