The School of Policy Studies at Queen’s University invites applications to teach core courses open to students enrolled in the Professional Master of Public Administration program. The successful candidate will possess teaching and/or professional experience in the field; a PhD in a related field will be preferred.

These are lecture/seminar courses with an anticipated enrolment of 25-35 graduate students. Applicants for MPA 824 (.25) must be willing to present in a condensed format during the three-day period September 23, 24 and 25th with pre-reading and post-assignments being provided to students. Applicants for MPA 809 (.5) must be willing to teach three-hour classes on each of October 22/23rd, November 19/20th, December 10/11th, January 14/15th, Feb 11/12th and March 25/26th. Applicants must be able to teach in-person and be able to switch to remote should the need arise due to the pandemic status. Queen’s University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen’s is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian and permanent residents will be given priority.

Academic professionals at Queen’s University are governed by the Collective Agreement between Queen’s University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University. (See http://www.qufa.ca.) A candidate qualified to teach may be considered for appointment to a Term Adjunct position as defined by the Collective Agreement for All Faculty, Librarians and Archivists between QUFA and Queen’s University.

Remuneration will be in accordance with the Collective Agreement, and appointments are subject to funding or enrolment criteria.

Applications should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching experience, the names and contact details of two referees who may be contacted, and any other relevant materials that the candidate wishes to submit for consideration. Applicants should also provide a brief (no more than one page) description of the course focus, identifying general themes and student evaluation measures.

To comply with Federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information about how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship, however, all applications must include one of the following statements: “I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”; OR, “I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada.” Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact Gail MacAllister in the School of Policy Studies at spsdpmgr [AT]queensu.ca.

Applications and all supporting documentation should be submitted by the closing date to:

Warren Mabee, Associate Dean and Director
School of Policy Studies, Queen’s University
Kingston, ON K7L 3N6

or by email to spsdpmgr [AT]queensu.ca.
