Queen’s Reads Events & Programming
Queen’s University Engineering & Technology Fair

Audience: Students in Technical Studies
Location: Online
Date: January 19-20, 11:30am-2:30pm, EST

This year our winter Engineering & Technology fairs will be taking place on Zoom with two days of employers looking to recruit Queen’s students.

Club Idea: Discuss what skills your members are learning by being a part of your club and how they relate to career goals. Then join the fair as a team to learn about future job opportunities where you can utilize these skills.

Majors Night

Audience: First Year Students
Location: Online
Date: February 25, 4:00pm-7:00pm, EST

Choosing a program is one of the biggest decisions you can make in university. It is important to make an informed choice—but it doesn’t have to stress you out. Majors Night was created to help you ask questions and learn about each Arts & Science program. Members from each Departmental Student Council (DSC) will be available to answer questions about their experiences with each program. You will be able to compare the different programs you are considering and explore whether they fit your interests and future goals. Advisors from Academic Advising, Career Services, and PASS will also be available for questions.

Career Services Workshops
